MRS. FELTON DISAPPOINTED

Washington Nov. 20—Mrs W. H. Felton, appointed to the senatorship of Georgia to fill a vacancy caused by death and now seemingly on the point of losing the distinction of being the first woman to occupy a seat in the United States senate, was on hand today when congress was called, but waited in vain for recognition.

The senate was in session but thirteen minutes. The swearing in of new senators was deferred until tomorrow.

IN NAME ONLY

Mrs Felton stands it seems, as a senator in name only. Georgia elected Senator George at the Nov. 7 election

An hour and a half before congress was to open she entered the senate chamber on the arm of former Senator Hoke Smith of that state, sent her bonnet and cloak to the Democratic cloak room, and took up a position on the sofa on the Democratic side

CAUSED SENSATION.

The advent of the 87 year old woman leader at the senate chamber caused somewhat of a sensation in the galleries although there were few on the floor to keep her company. She wore a black silk dress and white gloves and she peered out with much interest but with no signs of perturbation or abashment at what was going on about her.

Several times Mrs. Felton was cheered from the gallery. There was a demonstration half an hour before the senate convened.

MEETS COOLIDGE.

Former Senator Smit escorted her to the vice president's room and introduced her to Mr. Coolidge. The galleries, filled mostly with women applauded and the aged Georgia woman stopped just before the chair of the presiding officer, turned and threw a kiss to those who had greeted her as the first woman appointed to the senate.

[By The Associated Press.]

Hong Kong, Nov. 20—Sixty-five Chinese buccaneers traveled as passengers abroad the British steamer Sui-An when she left Macao for Hong Kong yesterday afternoon.

Seizing the ship a few miles out, the pirates held her for thirteen hours, and the crew and passengers made Hong Kong today with their captors driven away in sampans, only after a fierce battle in which two were killed and several wounded, including the captain of the Sui-An, a French priest and another European passenger

The British steamer was carrying many European passengers. The pirates, heavily armed, were disguised as first or second class passengers.

LOCK UP PASSENGERS.

When the Europeans showed resistance, the pirates threatened to beach and burn the vessel. In the fighting that followed two Indian watchmen were killed and two of the crew were wounded. The invaders then locked up passengers and crew

WOUNDS CHIEF.

Finally, thirteen hours later, an European shot and wounded the pirate chief. The chief's wife then directed that the excursion be abandoned. Midway between Hong Kong and Swatow the outlaws escaped in sampans.

NEWBERRY QUITS SENATE SEAT

Resignation of Michigan Senator Ends Long Political Controversy.

[By The Associated Press]

Washington, Nov. 20.—The resignation of Senator Truman H. Newberry of Michigan, the central figure of a long and bitter senate controversy will become effective tomorrow. Vice President Coolidge was unable at today's brief session to present Senator Newberry's letter of resignation and the Michigan senator's name remained temporarily on the rolls.

Forwarded to Governor Groesbeck of Michigan under date of November 18, Mr. Newberry's resignation, to become effective immediately, was made public here last night

TOWNSEND'S DEFEAT

Although declaring in a review of the bitter controversy over his right to a senate seat since his election over Henry Ford, four years ago, that this right had been "fully confirmed," Mr. Newberry said he had been impelled to retire because his Republican colleague, Senator Townsend, was defeated November 7.

In discussing the controversy which was an issue in elections in many states, Mr. Newberry expressed conviction that a "fair analysis of the vote in Michigan and other states will demonstrate that a general feeling of unrest was mainly responsible."

SERVICE FUTILE.

The present situation, however, he said, rendered "futile" his further service, since it meant he would "continue to be hampered by partisan political persecution." Should future opportunity present itself, Mr. Newberry added, he would not hesitate to offer himself to his state and country.

ENDS LONG FIGHT.

The resignation brings to an end a fight which has made political history and which it appeared would be resumed early in the session of congress which begins today. Convicted in Michigan of a conspiracy to violate election laws, Senator Newberry appealed to the supreme court which declared unconstitutional the state law under which he was acquitted.

The Senate, after a long investigation, finally confirmed his title to a seat by a margin of five votes. In the campaign just closed, the case was an issue in many states.

TAX BEER TO PAY BONUS

Hill, Maryland, Presents Bill in House to Handle Compensation.

Washington, Nov. 20—A soldiers' bonus to be paid in cash from taxation of 2.75 per cent beer and cider was proposed in a bill reintroduced today by Representative Hill, Republican, Maryland. The measure modifies one introduced by him in the last session which provided for 4 per cent beer and 12 per cent wine.

WOULD MEET OUTLAY.

The new bill provides settlement of a bonus in three equal cash payments and Mr. Hill said the beer and cider tax would take care of the outlay, which he estimated at one and one-half billion dollars.

REINTRODUCES BONUS.

A tax of 20 cents a gallon on beer and cider is stipulated. Representative Britten, Republican, Illinois today reintroduced the bonus bill vetoed by President Harding at the last session amended to provide for raising the necessary funds by the taxation of beer, wines and champagne.

The Britten bill would provide a tax of $30 per barrel on imported beer; $10 barrel on domestic beer, $10 per gallon on imported still wines and $2 per gallon on domestic still wines.

Prize Beagle Hound Has Gland Transplantation

"Alibi Billy" of Taylorville Shares With Man This Method of Rejuvenation.

[By The Associated Press]

Taylorville, Ill., Nov. 20.—"Alibi Billy" prize beagle hound and winner in fifty-eight dog shows in the central west, has another lease on youth and another claim to fame as the result of an operation Sunday for the transplantation of glands. In the opinion of local dog fanciers he is one of the first prize dogs to share with man this new mode of rejuvenation.

MORE THAN "MIDDLE AGED."

"Alibi Billy" is owned by W. A. Powell of Taylorville. He is twelve years old and in the realm of dogdom is more than middle-aged. Because his twelve years have given him a rank in bench and field track shows that is said to be second to none in his class, his owner secured a surgeon and had the operation performed. It is believed it will be successful.

BLUE RIBBON WINNER.

Mr. Powell, owner of "Alibi Billy" is nationally known as a dog fancier and breeder, and this dog, he announced following the operation, has taken blue ribbons all over the country and was especially well-known for his winnings in New York shows.

Whether the operation is a definite success, Mr. Powell said, would not be known for ten days. "Alibi Billy" seems very little concerned about his operation.

[By The Associated Press]

St. Louis, Nov. 20.—Steps to organize wet forces in every state to obtain modification of the Volstead act were discussed by the National Association Opposed to the Prohibition Amendment here today.

Predictions were made that the liquor question would be the principal issue of the 1924 presidential election.

DENY THIRD PARTY.

Denial that a third major political party favoring amendment of the Volstead law was planned, was made by delegates who said wet candidates of Republican or Democratic parties would be supported, and where those candidates are not available an independent nominee would be supported.

LACK MAJORITY.

Chicago, Nov. 20—The wet vote in the national house of representatives will be less than 140 while 218 constitute a majority, F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Illinois Anti-Saloon League said today upon his return from a meeting of the executive committee of the Anti-Saloon League in Philadelphia.

In the senate he said, there will be six and possibly seven more drys than at present.

ILLINOIS STILL DRY

"Illinois," he said, "one of the states chosen by the wets for a demonstration of anti-prohibition sentiment elected a legislature as dry as ever and will send more dry representatives to congress than ever before. At least eighteen Illinois members will stand by the dry program for prohibition enforcement"

McLaughlin said, to indict Mrs. Klimek for the murder of three husbands, Joseph Mitkiewitz, Joseph Ruskowski and Frank Kupczyk; Mrs. Stermer Koulik for the murder of Wojcik Stermer, her first husband; and both of them for the attempted murder of Mrs. Klimek's present husband, who is in a hospital, said to be suffering from effects of the poison.

Congress' Special Call Sets New Precedent

Insures Four Sessions and May See Woman Seated In Senate—Ship Subsidy Major Consideration.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The sixty-seventh congress was convened in special session at noon today breaking at least one precedent and perhaps two. The extra session, called primarily to consider the administration ship subsidy bill with the regular session to follow, insures four sessions for this congress, no other congress having had more than three.

Also this congress may have the distinction of including the first woman to be seated in the United States senate.

HARDING TALKS TEUSDAY.

President Harding is expected to address a joint session tomorrow on the ship subsidy bill.

The senate was in session only thirteen minutes, adjourning without giving Mrs. W. H. Felton of Georgia, or any other new senators, the opportunity to take the office.

NO WORK MONDAY.

Neither house plans to get to work until after the president's joint session address tomorrow, the senate, after usual formalities, being prepared to adjourn out of respect to the late Senator Watson of Georgia, and the house of respect to Representative Nolan, Republican, California.

SIXTY ONE PRESENT.

Sixty-one senators responded to the senate roll call. In addition to Mrs. Felton several other new senators were present ready to be sworn in

In the house a new amplifying machine, sounded like a ship's siren as it thundered out the voice of the speaker and reading clerk.

MRS. HUCK PRESENT.

Mrs. Winnifred Mason Huck, present to be sworn in as representative at large from Illinois, was the center of an ever-moving group eager to meet her. She wore a black silk dress with white lace collars, white gloves and a corsage bouquet of carnations Representative Alice Robertson, defeated for re-election, who will go out with Mrs. Huck next March, was in her accustomed seat, dressed simply in black.

The house roll call showed 291 members present. Six new representatives were sworn in and the house adjourned at 12:49 o'clock.

Labor Thorn in Conservatives' Side As Parliament Opens.

[By The Associated Press]

London, Nov. 20—A parliament in which Ireland, with the exception of Ulster is not represented and in which the Labor party appears as the chief contender for the opposition opened this afternoon.

T. P. O'Connor, "father of the house," promptly proposed John Henry Whitley for re-election as speaker. When this choice had been confirmed the house adjourned to receive the king's formal assent to its choice of speaker.

WILL IGNORE LABOR?

The Times' parliament correspondent asserts that the Liberals will not concede the Laborites' claim to recognition as the opposition party.

The Daily Herald, Labor's official paper, says:

"If the speaker should not immediately concede the Labor party's clear title to the position of official opposition, then the Labor party should immediately 'walk out of the house in a body.'"

RUMOR REUNION.

The situation is complicated by unconfirmed rumors of a reunion of the Asquithian and Georgian Liberals into a single party.

After the king's speech Thursday, parliament will proceed to consider the Irish legislation, ratification of which must be accomplished by Dec. 6.

Triumphs of M. Jonquelle

THE LAUGHTER OF ALLAH

MONSIEUR Jonquelle, the Prefect of Police of Paris, told me this story. We were on the deck of his yacht in the Mediterranean: the coast of Africa was in the distance. We had been talking of that strange, famous Englishman, whose tragic death in the North Sea had stirred the world.

Why had he never married—the greatest Englishman of his time? We did not name him. Monsieur Jonquelle called him "Sir Henry" in the story.

The Prefect of Police of Paris presented the story as though it were a detached tale of an oriental story teller in a bazaar of Cairo. And I listened with my eyes closed, on the cool deck, moved slowly by the long swells.....listened to the tragic love story of this strange, reserved famous Englishman who had lived in mystery and died in mystery.

The man who rode north from the citadel, along the Boulevard Mohammed Ali, was no longer young.

He sat firmly in the saddle, and to the distant eye, he was hard and lean like a hunter in condition, but his face was discolored by wind and sun, in repose was tired. It was an unusual face, seamed and crossed with lines, the mouth firm, almost harsh, with the muscles developed along the jaw. But it was not these features that impressed one.

It was the man's extraordinary eyes. They were large and set far apart. The color you immediately saw—a dark metallic blue—the blue of certain remote spaces in the tropic sky. The lids drooped, giving the man an expression at once of serenity and menace.

He rode a gray Arab, and his clothes were evidently the best product of a Bond Street tailor. He rode like a soldier—like one accustomed to live days and nights in the saddle.

The man felt old and tired.

The vast eternal unchanging aspect of Egypt oppressed him. Here all human effort seemed equally futile. Here, as in India, one grew only old and accomplished nothing. And, on this evening, he felt acutely the menace of Egypt.

England had only extended fingers on this great desert running south into impenetrable mystery. She had only the peace of the bayonet; and behind the indolence, the listless resignation of these desert peoples, there seemed to lie a vast, inherent hatred of the invader that never lessened, and that waited always with an unfailing patience. In India, this thing skulked in the distance, but here it seemed to approach—to be at hand.

Perhaps what the man knew staged this impression. The whole world of Islam was uneasy. She had been despoiled in Turkey and shamed. She felt that weak rulers, for gain or the love of life, had held her in leash when she ought to have been loosened with a great shout to a holy war. The heads of Islam were quiet, but the tribes were restless.

England, feeling always with her delicate antennae, knew this and, always wise, moved first. She had withdrawn this man from India and sent him here to set the butt of the Lee-Enfield a little firmer in the sand south toward Khartum.

He had a fortnight in Cairo before he took up this tremendous labor, and he used it to be free, to be alone, to ride when he liked without an orderly always at his heels.

It was great honor that England did him. He might, in the end, become Viceroy of India or Sirdar of Egypt. But, on this evening he was impressed with the value of what he paid—his youth had been required of him. When he should come up out of this desert he would be old. And what had he got—what would he get out of these great honors?"

The man rode slowly, holding the nervous Arab in. The strange, incongruous current of the city passed him, but he was thinking of something else, and he gave it no attention.

There was another thing. (He mused vaguely. He had seen on this very day, in the shade of a magnificent flowering vine, a young soldier and an English girl. They were sitting on a bench; neither moved, and only their hands touched. They did not speak, and yet their faces were like the faces of angels.

This was a thing that he had always hated. It was not the enemy in the front that threatened the army it was these loving creatures in the rear. Ruthless and determined, he had set his face against it. The army should be celibate. And he had broken and elbowed out the men who would encumber themselves with a loving heart.

Well, he had lived by the rule himself! There had been no woman about him on the frontiers of the Empire! When he came, now and then, to London, the current of life in which they moved failed to touch him. They were creatures apart.

HE REALIZED THAT THE HORSE COULD NOT GO ON.

He knew of them only what appeared before the eye. And, while he saw the beauty which they assembled, he saw also the thousand follies that seemed to give them pleasure, and he wondered in what mysterious charm lay their appalling influence on his soldiers.

And on this evening, alone in this mysterious city, he began to be assailed by a curious consuming wonder. He began to doubt the value of the one thing that he had gotten out of life. What was this other thing that gave an ignorant soldier and a common housemaid, motionless and silent in the shadows of a flowering vine, the faces of the angels?

What did this mysterious word mean that men used to designate this thing. He knew what the love of life was, for he had seen every sort of creature fight desperately to live; and he knew the love of gain and the love of power. But men, all men, everywhere, imperiled and abandoned these things for the love of woman, and they did it with no doubt, like one who trades glass for a jewel?

He reflected. There was no virtue in the thing that he had, in the thing for which he traded away his life, thus to transfigure the human face. And when he should come up out of this great desert south toward Khartum, he would be old!

Suddenly he realized that the horse could not go on, and that he was controlling it with difficulty. He had traversed the Rue Muski, skirted the Place Esbekiya and was about to cross the Kamel Kasha, that short boulevard entering the Place Esbekiya from the north, when a procession stopped him.

The sacred carpet had arrived from Mecca. The streets before him were gonged with people, and the whole city echoed with weird Oriental cries. There was little new to him in the orgy of these native ceremonies, with their riot of sound and color, and their vast medley of tribes assembled from the waste places of the earth.

For a moment, as a soldier, he approved the precaution taken by the English authorities— company of troops thrown in, here and there, to divide the tribes and the horde of natives that surged along with every color, and with every sort of cry, and every extravagant gesture.

He approved, too, the diplomacy that gave these regiments a gala air with their bands of music, as though they rivaled the Arab and the fellah in doing honor to the holy relic, while in fact, they held the fingers of England on the city lest they slip off in a sudden rising of these native hordes.

Then his mind returned to its reflection, with an idle interest he watched the strange, half-naked, primeval creatures that appeared, issuing out of the vast limitless ocean of sand that lay endlessly to the south, from tribes, old and unchanged since the days of Abraham—creatures from the uncharted deeps of the Sahara, naked and subsisting like the Baptist.

What lay far off there in the dead cities of this sand-swept wilderness whence came these mad men, gaunt covered with hair, and infinitely old, no human creature could say. Perhaps the magician and the wizard of old times lived on there. And there in ancient tombs, in honeycombed walls sifting full of sand, in strange wilderness eternally dead and silent, old wise men abode who knew the ancient formulas by which the inexorable course of nature could be turned aside.

Perhaps they maintained there to this day that mysterious power which the sacred books of all religions agree that certain dread members of the race possessed in the morning of the world.

And the streaming horde, with its cries and colors, slashed and intersected by smart European regiments mingling the drum and the Highland pipe with the wailings of the desert, became a thing unreal—a fantastic background for that other mystery that so profoundly disturbed the man.

And while he sat in the saddle looking down at these wild people of the desert, another looked down at him.

A woman, accompanied by the resident doctor and a maid, entered the English hotel on the other side of the square, crossed the foyer and got into the lift. As she passed, a little dapper man, bald, dressed like a tailor's print, and with the air of one who is a social register, spoke to his companions pouring a cup of tea at a table by the wall.

"That's Nelly Landsear—used to be a famous Southern beauty in the States. Jove! She's gone to pieces! Had a devil of a life! Married Bristed Ames—dirty little beast! My word, she was a wonder once! Looks fifty today."

And he began to tell the dramatic story of this woman and the creature that she had married, the story of a tireless effort to keep a weakling on his feet, to make a man of him. The story over again of Daude's "Kings in Exile." A story that was a tragedy of failures.

Another installment of this thrilling story will appear in our next issue.

Chronic Constipation

Relieved Without the Use of Laxatives

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe.

When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowel to keep the food waste soft and moving.

Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus replaces it. Try it today.

Nujol

A LUBRICANT—NOT A LAXATIVE

Lasting

LASTING service qualities of well-built vitrified brick pavements are brought home more forcibly to taxpayers who have had an opportunity to compare such pavements—twenty and thirty years old—with substitutes that have worn out in from five to ten years. Consideration of first cost alone often leads to the adoption of a substitute pavement. Rapid deterioration, heavy annual repair costs and the need for early replacement frequently is the costly lesson taught by experience.

VITRIFIED Brick PAVEMENTS

properly constructed, are famous for their long life and low maintenance costs. Brick pavements—built as they should be built—always gain by comparison with others. Communities that have tried substitutes ultimately return to vitrified brick to obtain lasting and inexpensive pavement service.

STYLE CONFLICTION PUZZLING PARIS

Paris, Nov. 20.—Paris is confronted by a serious problem today. How to maintain the straight, slim lines which Parisiennes so ardently desire and at the same time bulge out into the fullness which the couteriores have decreed. Yet the impossible has been accomplished through the front godet. This allows width while not interfering with the clinging, slender effect.

ARMS "OUT" AGAIN.

London, Nov. 20.—Arms are "out" once more, which means that they are in so far as sleeves are concerned. It is no longer fashionable to show the arms too much in evening dress. The removable sleeve is a quaint device looking toward concealment. Gathered into an elastic top, the sleeve of lace or embroidered net starts just above the elbow, leaving the arm bare only around the shoulder.

OPERA SEASON.

New York, Nov. 20.—One thing the opera season has proved even so early is the extraordinary vogue of the coronet. Diadems that no queen need be ashamed to wear sparkle and glow in the boxes these nights. The usual shape is the Russian, which rises a bit in front. The coronets are invariably fastened to the back of the hair by means of several strands of pearls.

RUFFLES BACK.

New York, Nov. 20.—Ruffles are beginning to come back today on the newest lingerie step-ins, camisoles and even undervests of silk and linen have tiny ruffles edged with filet lace. As for night gowns, they often make a wide ruffle or a cluster of narrow ones do instead of a sleeve.

CAMEL'S HAIR IS LATEST STYLE

Now that the vogue of the very short sports coat of fur is firmly established the young woman who doesn't want to shiver through the winter begins to look for warm and attractive separate skirts.

She finds them in the new skirts of camel's hair—buff colored, warm and wooly—and in many different models. The plain wrap-around styles are good because the material is too bulky to lend itself to more elaborate fashions. Gored models are good, too, and skirts with circular flares are also in demand.

Among the pleated skirts the plaid prunella cloth is popular, but the newest pleats are put into skirts of one-tone cricket cloth.

For afternoon costumes velvet and velveteen are most in demand and are shown in draped models.

TEXAS HAS HARDEST RAINS IN 3 YEARS

Ft. Worth, Nov. 20.—Texas today has enough rain for the first time in three years. This applies to the grain districts, the live stock counties and the agricultural sections generally.

Rain fell almost continuously in some districts for a week. While business slackened during the actual wet spell it now is preparing to go ahead again. Texas merchants should have the best trade since the boom of 1919 for the next sixty days.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon, apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and it never fails to do the work.

CAME TO DECATUR.

Alvin A. Byrne was born Oct. 25, 1895, at Owensville, Ind., being twenty-seven years old at the time of his death. When but a year old he came with his parents to Decatur, Ill., where he grew to young manhood. When about fourteen years of age he united with the Christian church of Decatur. In 1918 he enlisted in the Illinois National Guards and was later transferred to Company A. Thirty-first Michigan Infantry, and served on the border during the disturbances in Mexico. He was then released for a time, but when the country went to war with Germany he volunteered his services and enlisted in the Twenty-fifth infantry, Thirty-second division. After a short time in Camp Merritt he sailed for France, where he saw active service, during which time he was gassed and from which he never fully recovered.

With his mother and brother Earl he left for Tucson, Ariz., about two months ago in hopes of recovering from the disease, but his condition was so serious that nothing could be done to save him.

HAD MANY FRIENDS.

Mr. Byrne was a young man of fine character and was highly esteemed. With a kind disposition and thoughtfulness for all, he made friends everywhere.

He was a member of Ionic lodge, No. 474, of Detroit, Mich; the Modern Woodmen, No. 1628, of Decatur, Ill., and Charles Leonard Post, No. 1, of the American Legion of Michigan. He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Byrne, four sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Grace Traughber of Albert City, Iowa, Mrs. Ethel Beasley, Storm Lake, Iowa; Ora Gard of Storm Lake, Mrs. Marie Reynolds of Springfield and Gertrude and Earl at home.

ANNA E. HESS.

Anna Elizabeth Hess, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hess, died at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning at the family residence, 1499 East Lawrence street. She was seven days old. Her death was caused by valvular heart disease. Beside her parents she is survived by one sister, Mildred Hess, seven years old. The body was removed to the Monson & Wilcox undertaking establishment and prepared for burial.

The funeral was held at two o'clock Monday afternoon, short services being conducted at the grave in Fairlawn cemetery.

JAPANESE S. S. PICTURE RECEIVED

Mrs. James Pettee Tells at Congregational Church of Work.

Mrs. James Pettee told the members of the Congregational Sunday school Sunday about a Sunday school over in Tokio, Japan, and presented to the school a picture of the Japanese school. Mrs Pettee's daughter, Mrs Tenny, and Mrs Tenny's daughter, Ruth, are shown in the picture. They are workers in this Sunday school and are the only Americans connected with it All the others in the school are Japanese. Only a few children in the school come from Christian families

This school is run in connection with a theological seminary in which Japanese Christian preachers are trained. The object is to give these native Japanese preachers an opportunity to see what a Sunday school is like and to learn something about it, since the Japanese have nothing similar to it.

FEW IN PROPORTION.

If there were no more Sunday school pupils in Decatur in proportion to the population than there is in Tokyo, there would be only twenty Sunday school pupils in this entire city.

This picture was sent to Decatur and to the Congregational Sunday school in appreciation of a picture which was sent over to Japan several years ago by the local Sunday school. This was a picture of the Sunday school field day held in Fairview park in 1913.

JACKSON SCHOOL PAPER PLEASES

Big Benefit to Pupils in Study.

That the interest in the Jackson School Journal published in The Review last Saturday was keen was shown Miss Maude Elizabeth Vigles, the principal of the school when the pupils rang her doorbell at six o'clock of an evening to hand in their copy that it should have the stamp of her approval.

MUCH BENEFIT.

The principal feels as do the children, that much benefit has been gained from their work on this paper They watched their English just a little closer than usual, they enlarged their vocabulary, they used their brains in finding the subjects for the paper, they learned something of expression and composition which will be of use to them at all times as well as when their next paper comes out.

The proof of the letter in Italian was taken home by the little girl who furnished the story and it was read there. Three girls attended the meeting of the Mothers and heard the talk of A H. Mills on the question of the Bible in the schools. The girls then got their heads together and their report of the meeting was the result.

THE WAY OF THE GEORGIAN

What sort of left-handed gesture was that Georgia made in the case of Mrs W H Felton the lady who was named senator by the governor?

This appointment was paraded over the country as a most chivalrous performance by the state of Georgia All the newspapers carried columns in praise of Georgia and its governor The thing was the marking of the beginning of a new era for woman in politics

And about the time the papers got through playing up all this, that is when they moved the story to an inside page, politicians in Georgia began to take it back It was broadly hinted that Mrs Felton would never be able to sit as senator, and this seemed to be satisfactory to Georgians The difficulty was that an elected successor to Senator Watson would get on the ground before Mrs Felton could be sworn in

This began to take on the appearance of a close race in time Then they called a special session of the election commission in Georgia to proclaim the election of Mr. George. His certificate was made out in hurried time and then he took the next train for Washington, to make sure to be there before the arrival of the time to swear in Mrs Felton

The whole performance looks as if the next move after naming Mrs Felton was one to make sure she should not occupy the place for even a few minutes It looks like a case in which the newspapers and "the special writers were suckred into lavishing undeserved praise on the gallants of Georgia.

RIGHT NEAR THE BOTTOM

The department of agriculture sends word from Washington that potatoes for this year have hit bottom in price They are now at a figure that allows the western grower only 20 to 30 cents a bushel Some growers in the west are giving away potatoes to those who will dig them

It does look like a mighty low price for the grower One wonders how he is to make ends meet during the year that is ahead of him But potatoes have been known to go lower than this; they have sold as low as 30 cents a hundredweight in northern Michigan, which is 18 cents a bushel.

But the western grower who is giving away his potatoes is not worrying himself over even possible lower prices; he is pretty sure they can't compel him to get out and dig them And there are many western farmers whose principal crop is potatoes

A WAY SPECIALISTS HAVE

It isn't every day that Thomas A Edison has an important discovery to announce in his regular line, but nevertheless he manages to stick around on the first page

This time he is out with an announcement that he is "opposed" to the college graduate because in his opinion this young man does not want a job with work in it

It is possible that Mr Edison doesn't mean this thing just as it is reported The college man has had some training in what may be looked on as work, has had a good deal in fact, therefore he should not make serious objection because something with work in it is put up to him

The worst that even Mr. Edison can say against this college man is that he wants to pick his own kind of work, doesn't wish somebody else to do this for him. And it happens the college man is not alone in this, and probably this is unfortunate for the world Many experts in nearly any line will suffer privation and hardship before they will take to work that is distasteful to them. Men of best stuff are not guilty of this, but not everybody is born that way.

And it is suspected that not more than one college man in a hundred thousand can pass the peculiar qualifying "examinations" that have been arranged by Mr. Edison

POOR GERMAN SALESMANSHIP

Maximilian Harden mentions in passing—just happens to throw it in—that farm lands in Germany are selling to foreigners for a twentieth of their fair, value. This is because of disasters that have overtaken the exchange value of the German mark

Those Germans should do some advertising if they have farm lands to offer at such bargain prices. Land is land the world over, and that of good quality is limited in quantity Its fair value, as determined in other markets, is quite high. It may be expected land will be snapped up quickly when it goes on the bargain counter

Of course there is always some question as to title that is given Assuming that Germans can do about the right thing in this particular, they can by a little judicious advertising push the price of their land up to about 90 per cent of full value. This is a great deal better than 5 per cent, the price Harden says they are now getting

MAKE OVER THEM TOO MUCH

Out at Millikin some "disloyalists" painted on the walks. "Oust Wann!" and then again "Wann needs a rest!"

We are told a great lot of noise is being made over this vandalism If the guilty ones are discovered, they will be made to serve as "horrible examples" Classes are meeting and resolutions are passed to condemn these miscreants

Possibly it has occurred to some that the condemnation is overstressed, or rather that too much is made over these offenders If they were taken before Justice Noble he would hesitate before ordering them shot at sunrise, and our Mr Noble can usually be depended on to play the limit There is such a thing as keeping one's head when some fellow goes wrong

MORE THAN HIS MONEY'S WORTH

Editor William Allen White is most anxious that the case against him in Kansas go to trial and be fought out to a verdict from a jury.

Authorities in Kansas appear anxious to drop the case, let it slide into oblivion without tacking a verdict on it.

Authorities brought the case, and presumably they are within their privilege when they go into court and move to dismiss

Editor White says if the case is dismissed it will be over his screaming protest He is quite sure he can win if they will only go to trial; he would enjoy a victory and doesn't propose to be cheated out of it

It looks as if Mr. White has employed lawyers and has paid them in advance. This means the outlay of good money, and naturally he feels something is coming to him for that money.

We don't know what he paid the lawyers, but he has had favorable publicity that would be cheap at a million dollars If they quit right now he will be ahead of the game. And he is the kind of man who can appreciate bounding glory

BETTER ASK DAUGHERTY

At Los Angeles we had this statement from Secretary Davis of the labor department: "Labor has the same right as capital to organize"

That labor has the right to organize is no longer denied anywhere in the country, hasn't been for a long time. It is something admitted by practically all, and it is doubtful that a speaker can anywhere get a hand from an audience by declaring this right anew. In these times it is about as startling as a statement that a man has a right to breathe

When Secretary Davis gets into the right of capital to organize he is over in some other fellow's department. This is something that belongs in the attorney general's end of the house; he and Secretary Davis do not view the question alike

The minute you begin to mention that capital is organizing Attorney Daugherty pricks up his ears, and as his next move he may send a few sleuths and investigators out on the warpath. Sometimes Mr Daugherty is inclined to go the length of clapping capital in prison for having dared to organize

Secretary Davis should get acquainted with this Mr. Daugherty.

NECESSARY IN A PINCH

Concerning the Fascisti in Italy, M. Clemenceau exclaims. "Ah, there's a government!"

It is something that appeals to Clemenceau. It gets things done, sometimes on short order, and this is Clemenceau's notion of government. It is the way he handled matters when he took charge in France during dark days of the big war.

There are times when only this style of government fills the bill. There is such a time now in Italy, and possibly they have found a man to meet the hour's demands. But what about two years from now?

By now our election has been blamed on everything except the Einstein theory, and it escapes only because we can't understand it.

And one suspects that the Italian population of Chicago is not numerous enough to call for 500 carloads of wine grapes a day.

The Wabash railroad will please conduct itself at crossings so as not to be brought up before Justice Noble.

The sultan of Turkey hasn't quit the throne, they tell us, so we wonder if he has taken it along with him

The last time we got a glance at Van he didn't look like a man who had succeeded in collecting that bill from the water department.

Judging from prices quoted in the east, we may have to go to New York city to buy the Thanksgiving turkey.

The harem doesn't weep because the sultan is gone, but because of its fear he took the meal ticket along with him.

When Mussolini gets to Lausanne he may bump into some fellows who do not "skeer" at mention of his name, and then what?

And here is hoping Central Junior high will be able to lay out Urbana when both sides get into Senior high

Princeton beats all of 'em, east and west, north and south, and it may be that for once we have a real and demonstrated champion

ABOUT TOWN

A CERTAIN well known Decatur citizen, has a young granddaughter whom he adores and by whom he is adored He also has a brother who resembles him very closely. The brother is a guest in the former's home here, and Friday evening was sitting in a room that was not brightly lighted The little miss saw him dimly, and thinking it was Granddaddy pounded upon his lap, flung her arms about his neck, as is her wont, and became a partner in a real honest-to-goodness "petting party"

Presently the granddaddy came in To say that the child was flabbergasted is putting it mildly Her eyes grew like saucers, as she turned them first on one man and then on the other, When she finally regained control of her faculties and her tongue she ejaculated:

"I'm a son of a gun!"

GEORGE PASFIELD, president of the Springfield park commission, leading citizen and one of the wealthiest in that city, is a great lover of trees, trees in their natural state, forests as the Creator made them, and one of his hobbies is to have the city of Springfield make a serious start in reforestation of the hills along the Sangamon He believes very much in having large park tracts left in a state of nature, not barbered and manicured into closely shaven golf courses and lawns.

He thinks that the average citizen cares too little for natural beauty and too much for the artificial upkeep of parks and his favorite story to illustrate this attitude was told by him to a Decatur man one day last week when the handling of parks was under discussion

"We had just bought a tract of land in the park district," said Mr. Pasfield, "and I had been out to look at it when I picked up a farmer living in that neighborhood to bring him to town. He was the real thing as far as being an old timer was concerned and as we drove past the newly acquired land he said, in a nasal twang,

"Well now got the land I s'pose we'll have a park here, won't yuh. Ef you'll cut down the trees and put in a few animal cages with animals in them it will be a real park."

Congressmen-Elect Spent From Nothing to $4,670

William Hull Highest; Loren E. Wheeler Spent $3468 And Was Defeated.

(Special to The Review)

Washington, D. C. Nov. 20—Clerks who checked over the completed reports of election expenditures filed by Illinois congressional candidates concluded here today that politics and poverty were not hand in hand during the campaign which came to a climax in the election of two weeks ago. The last statements of successful and vanquished contenders for seats at Washington are still straggling in, but the majority have already become matters of official record.

FEW LESS THAN $1000.

Summing up the entire cost of the year's political battles as reported for both the primary and general elections the checkers found that few congressmen-elect had spent less than $1000, while a number accounted for sums considerably in excess of that figure.

The federal law of which the validity became questionable by the decision of the Supreme Court in the Newberry case sets a limit of $5000 for expense in each congressional election, making possible a combined outlay of $10,000 on the primary and general elections. No Illinoisian exceeded this figure.

Contributions were made to a number of campaign funds of incumbent downstate congressmen by the Republican National Congressional committee, not exceeding $800 for each election. Other candidates, including some of the incumbents, reported "no contributions," indicating that they financed their campaigns themselves

HULL SPENT $4670.

The largest expenditure downstate was that of William E Hull of Proria, who spent $4,670 in defeating Judge Jesse Black of Pekin. Hull, who had stiff opposition in both primary and general elections, reported no contributions.

Other reported figures of winning candidates downstate by districts for both campaigns were as follows

11th, Frank R Reid, Aurora, $1685.

12th, Charles E. Fuller, Belvidere, $125

13th, John McKenzie, Elizabeth, $1260

14th William J Graham Aledo, $958

15th, Edward J King Galesburg $863

17th, Frank H Funk.

18th, William P. Holaday, Danville, $372

19th Allen F Moore, Monticello, $2300

20th, Henry T Rainey, Carrolton, $3 159

21st, J Earl Major Hillsboro, none

22nd, Edward E. Miller, East St Louis, $600.

23rd, W W Arnold, Robinson, $4,245

24th, Thomas S Williams Louisville, $2 218.

25th, Edward E Denison $759.

At large, Richard Yates, Springfield, $849.

COST LOSERS HEAVILY

It was a costly campaign for many of the losers a well. The hardest hit on the face of expense returns for both elections was Congressman Loren E Wheeler of Springfield, who spent $3,468. He received a contribution of $1,000 from the Republican National Congressional committee and financed the remainder himself. Andrew B. Dennis of Danville, Democrat, spent $1735 to no avail in an attempt to succeed "Uncle Joe" Cannon.

Congressman William J. Graham of Aledo noted "no contributions, unfortunately" on the face on his return sheet.

HITS SENATORS

Graham also took a swing at Senators McCormick and McKinley which may be the beginning of a row among the Illinois congressional delegation when under the heading referring to campaign promises of favor or reward, he wrote as follows:

"Owing to the fact that the senators from my state have absorbed all the Federal patronage, and owing to the further lamentable fact that the 'durned fool' alleged civil service order of the president has prevented me from naming postmasters, while it makes me responsible for these appointments, I have thought it the better part of discretion to promise nobody anything, and hence I am as virtuous as a new-born babe as far as promises are concerned. I have made none."

As the salary of a congressman is $7500 a year it is pointed out with some amusement here that several downstate Illinoisians spent half their first year's salary as congressmen in securing election

Ten Years Ago Today In Decatur

NOV. 20, 1912.

Turkeys were scarce and so high that dealers were making little effort to get any. The price was about thirty cents a pound.

The city started condemnation suit against the Illinois Central for right of way to straighten the Franklin street subway.

Dr. Charles Hubbard Judd, head of the department of education, University of Chicago, was here for several days to inspect Millikin University This was believed to be due to the fact that the local school was seeking aid from the Rockefeller fund.

C. W. Lindsay, who had been in the livery business here some years, was forced to close out because of automobile competition.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

Miss Ruby T. DeMotte resigned her position as teacher in the high school to take a position in the De Kalb schools.

The jury in the Dingman will case sustained the will of James Dingman. A motion for a new trial was to be made

The price of white corn dropped to thirty-five cents from thirty-seven.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest.
(Copyright, 1922, Edgar A Guest)

THE ONLY GRIEF THAT MATTERS.

There were four of us in the smoking car airing our petty woes,
And the air was filled with the loud complaints which often a Pullman knows;
One fellow spoke of his money loss and he cursed from his easy seat
The friend who had sold him the worthless stock; and he called him "liar" and "cheat"

We vied as whimperers often do to lead with our tale of wrong,
We trotted our troubles up and down, each singing a doleful song,
One had sat in a dentist's chair and to listen to him complain
You'd have thought that the joy of earth was killed by that minute or two of pain.

I was as bad as the other three, I answered them mope for mope,
Trouble had captured and collared me and useless it seemed to hope;
That gloom was thick in that stuffy car, as thick as the clouds of smoke,
Till the last of us told our tale of woe—then a man in the corner spoke.

"Gentlemen, I have heard you all and your pitiful stories through,
And I tell you now that I'd sing for joy to be troubled the same as you.
I'd never frown and I'd never whine, or speak in the way you speak,
But I've been hit where it really hurts—I buried my wife last week!"

And now whenever I hear men growl at some trivial loss they've met
And tell their troubles and curse the world and grumble and whine and fret,
I tell them the tale of the silent man, with the pale and careworn cheek,
The man—and ever he's sitting near—who buried his wife last week

Little Benny's Notebook

Pop put a square obiong packidge on the hall rack wen he went to the office this morning, saying to ma, By the way, this belongs to Mr. Lewis, theres cigars in it, so if he sends his office boy up today I wish you'd give it to him.

And he took it and I shut the door egen and wen pop came ome he sed, Wares that packidge I left on the hall rack Lewis dident send his boy after all, he's going to send him to my office tomorro.

Willyum, thats perfeckly redickulus, the boy was heer and got the packidge and for all I know Mr. Lewis has smoaked all the cigars by this time, he's foolish enuff to, Im sure, ma sed, and pop sed, Yee gods youve given those cigars to the rong boy, and I sed, G. ma, maybe we did, there was a huckster waggin out in the stret at the same time and maybe the boy was attatched to that, maybe he ony wunted to know if we wunted to buy eny bannannas or something

And so you gave him Mr. Lewises cigars, how sweet and appropriate pop sed, and ma sed, Well I dont care, I dont like that man Lewis and never 'xpect to, and pop sed, But they were his cigars, have you no sents of justice?

Certeny I have, and thats jest wy im glad, ma sed And she went to the movies with my sister Gladdis and pop called up Mr. Lewis on the telefone and told him to buy another box of cigars and charge them to him

BAD HABITS

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP

Bad habits are almost always the cause for that dread disease, diabetes. Most of those who have diabetes have earned it through eating an excess of sugars and starches.

There is a little organ in the body called the pancreas, which takes care of the sugars and starches. Like any other organ of the body, it does its work well and only cries out when vastly overworked. Excessive overwork finally exhausts it and the result is diabetes.

Starches and sugars are converted by the body into heat and energy When an excess is eaten, what is not used is converted into fat and stored away as such. For this reason most people who acquire diabetes are fat

Obesity is the first sign that tells us that too much sugar and starch are being consumed and we should be warned by such a condition that diabetes is a potential menace. When this warning is continually disregarded and the work of the pancreas becomes, more and more difficult than comes diabetes. However, it must be said that fatness is not always the warning that diabetes is in the offing. Some lean people are liable to develop the disease.

Just as one man can smoke more cigars or cigarets than another without harming himself, so one man has a greater capacity for sugars and starches than another. No one can judge his pancreas by the pancreas of his neighbor.

Because he eats less bread and sweets than the next man is no reason that he is not overworking his pancreas. In the first place, that next man with whom he is comparing himself may either have diabetes or he may be developing it. And in the second place, the other man may have been born with a stronger and better pancreas,

Diet is of the utmost importance and should be regulated by a physician to fit the case, since each diabetic has his own peculiar needs.

Personal hygiene is also important in diabetes. Improvement depends a great deal on the patient himself. He should do everything possible to keep from family and business troubles and lead a quiet life in a mild climate.

Diabetes is one of the diseases which a periodic examination will often prevent because it can be discovered and treated before it gets a good foothold.

Inspector Puts His O. K. On Tanlac.

"Tanlac is a fine health builder and I am always glad to say a good word for it because it has been of great benefit to me," declared William J. Lewis, 125 W. 8th St., Gary, Ind. Mr. Lewis is a steel inspector for Robert W. Hunt and Co., Chicago, a man widely traveled and held in high esteem for his conservative temperament and broad experience.

"I was for some time in a badly run-down condition," he said. "I lost my usually keen appetite, gas and sourness caused by indigestion upset my stomach and gave me severe headaches, and I got so I would tire out easily.

"I noticed the record made by Tanlac, having never lost track of the progress of medicine since I was graduated in nursing in my early twenties. I decided to try it and am pleased to state it has restored me to good health in every way."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

I haven't been able to do that in many years. I can thank S. S. S. for it all! To me it was a rising sun of joy and liberty. Brothers and sisters in misery, do not close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. It is here and now for all of you. S. S. S. is waiting to help you." There is a reason why S. S. S. will help you. When you increase the number of your red-blood cells, the entire system undergoes a tremendous change. KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive colors. 15c and 30c.

Several Surprises For Conference Grid Fans

Knox-Lombard Score Starts Week End With An Upset—Bradley Shows Strength.

BY HOWARD V. MILLARD.

Football fans who follow the Illinois minor college elevens very closely, were given a number of surprises the past week end, the first one starting Friday when the Knox college eleven held the Lombard team to a 7 to 0 score in the annual battle between those great rivals.

Just one slip, that of allowing Lamb to go past the secondary defense to receive a pass and race 35 yards to the Knox two yard line, paved the way for the Olive to win, in one of the best battles ever staged between the two teams.

While the game was clean throughout, four Lombard men came out in bad shape, Swanson and Thompson being taken to a hospital Friday evening for treatment while Lamb and Stiner are under a doctor's care.

LOCAL FANS PLEASED.

Local fans were well satisfied with the Millikin team battling Rolla to a 6 to 6 tie in the Missouri town. While Rolla is not among the top notchers of the "Show Me" state, the fact that the Blue and White team was forced to take the field soon after a tiresom ride from St. Louis, their ability to play the Miners even would indicate the I. I. A. C. team as the strongest of the two.

BRADLEY SHOWS CLASS.

Any doubt which existed in the minds of state fans as to the class of Bradley this season was erased when the Robertson-Johnson machine galloped through Lake Forest 26 to 6. The Glaze team had tied Ripon, the team which gave Lombard a hard struggle and had walloped Beloit, at Beloit, only a week before the journey to Peoria.

Unless Carthage or Eureka should upset the Tech team in the remaining games, they will have an equal claim with Lombard for state honors.

NOT A SURPRISE.

To the average football followor the defeat of Illinois Wesleyan by Illinois College Saturday will be heralded as an upset, but to those who have followed the Harmon team this season and had the chance to see them work, the result of the contest was not a great shock. The fact that the Harmon team played Bradley 6 to 0 was enough to indicate strength while their defeat of Eureka 12 to 0 showed that the Harmon machine was on the up grade.

You will have to look a long way in the minor college group before you find a better teacher of football than Bill Harmon.

OUTPLAYS VALPARAISO.

St. Viator proved a surprise Saturday when they outplayed the Valparaiso university eleven on their own field and came home with a 0 to 0 tie, the second one in two years. Valpo was credited with a 0 to 0 [illegible] with Depauw several weeks ago so that the I. I. A. C. team deserves much credit.

Monmouth as expected proved no match for Northwestern U., but the fact that the Smith team was able to count two touchdowns on the Big Ten team gave them something to feel good over at Monmouth.

Illinois State Normal saw a game slip away from them Saturday at Upper Alton when the Shurtleff team scored two touchdowns in the final quarter to beat the Russell team 12 to 0. A touchdown by Butzow and a goal from the field by Cone Harrison gave the Teachers their nine points. Forward passes won for Shurtleff.

COMING BATTLES.

Lombard will again start the week end contests when the Schissler tribe meets St. Viator, the same eleven they battled for the championship last season. St. Viator is undefeated in the I. I. A. C. the same as Lombard, although the Crangle team fell before Bradley.

Millikin will attempt to secure revenge on the Lake Forest team for the 1921 defeat and after tieing the Rolla Miners the Blue and White team has hopes of closing the season with a victory.

KNOX COMING.

Wesleyan will again find their hands full at Galesburg Saturday when the Methodists play Knox. If Knox can display the same kind of football they did against Lombard they should even up with Wesleyan for the 1921 defeat.

Lewis Omer's team, the one that spoiled a perfectly good season for Bradley last year, will invade Peoria Saturday. The Tech team will be on edge for this contest, so there isn't much chance for the eleven from western Illinois repeating.

Augustana is billed to meet Illinois college at Rock Island and while it looks as if the law of averages would give the Swedberg team a win pretty soon, no one will expect them to upset Illinois College.

Shurtleff journeys to Lincoln and will enter this game a favorite, although they should have a tough struggle.

PRO TITLE LOOMS FOR CHAMBERLAIN

Canton Bulldogs Hand the Cardinals a Defeat.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 20.—Ten thousand fans saw Chris O'Brien's Chicago Cardinals suffer their first defeat of the season Sunday at White Sox Park, when the Canton Bulldogs came out on the long end of a 7 to 0 score. It was this same Canton team which gave the Bears their only defeat of the season, also.

The teams battled desperately for three quarters without scoring, although Canton gained the most ground, and in the final period, a long pass, Robb to Sackseter, produced the touchdown. Henry kicked goal for the extra point.

In the second quarter Canton advanced the ball to within a foot of the Cardinals' goal, but O'Brien's men held three successive times and recovered the ball on downs.

STONINGTON WINS FROM I. T. S. TEAM

PLACE KICK IS ENOUGH TO WIN

For Bears Over Islanders—History Repeats.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Kicking a field goal in the last two minutes of play at the Cub park Sunday afternoon, Dutch Sternaman helped the Chicago Bears beat the strong Rock Island Independents, 3 to 0. It was the hardest fought battle of the season on the North Side, and all signs pointed to a scoreless tie until Dutch drove one between the posts.

Last fall Dutch Sternaman's toe also downed Rock Island here by the same score, only it was made earlier in the battle. The Independents brought a powerful eleven to Chicago yesterday, one which had swatted the Dayton Triangles a week ago, 43 to 0.

The largest crowd of the season viewed the play, several hundred rooters being here from Rock Island. The result of the game was a decided shock to them, as they were fully confidant of winning after the many triumphs the Independents have registered this season.

VOSS MAKES LONG RUN.

In spite of the heavy field, considerable open play was attempted. Willie Voss of the Rock Islanders, one of Walter Camp's men when at Detroit university, furnished the one big thriller of the day during the first quarter, when he intercepted a forward pass and raced fifty yards before he was tackeled from behind. He was within fifteen yards of the goal line when brought to earth.

Both teams had powerful lines, and the stellar backs found much trouble breaking through for any substantial gains. The Bears had a little better of the argument on line plunging. Only a few of the many forward passes attempted were completed, and the only fumble of the game came after the whistle was blown calling the end of a quarter.

Halfback Johnson of Rock Island who played here with the great Municipal Pier eleven during war times tried three place kicks during the early part of the battle, and all went wild. After that the visitors didn't get close enough to threaten seriously.

TEAMS EVENLY MATCHED

So closely matched were the lines that nobody stood out as a headliner. Duke Slater, former star tackle at the University of Iowa, had many admirers in the crowd, and he played his usual brilliant game.

Late in the second quarter the Bears worked the ball well into the Independents' territory. On the return of a punt the Bears had taken the ball at mid-field and marched steadily down the gridiron until Conzelman finally intercepted a pass at his ten-yard line. His return punt was bad, Sternaman running it back fifteen yards to the Rock Island twenty-eight yard line. A forward pass, Walquist to Halas, gained eight yards and another to Joe Sternaman put the ball on the six-yard line. Dutch Sternaman made ready for a place kick, but changed his mind and tossed a forward pass which Stinchcomb received at the eight yard line just as the whistle blew.

RACING NOTES.

Off to a flying start, good weather, fast track and an enormous crowd, the meeting at Bowie promises to be the best that has ever been given in Maryland, and a fitting climax for the banner year of the American turf, in which more money than ever before has been paid to winning owners.

The feature of the opening day at Bowie Saturday, the Southern Maryland Handicap, resulted in Lucky Hour showing the form that has been claimed for him by his owners and trainer all season. He is essentially a front runner, and Schuttinge has often said there was no use trying to keep him from going to the front. In Saturday's race Fair Phantom kept him from going to the front for the first half of the race and thus helped him to win.

In her first race this year, at Lexington, Fair Phantom finished fourth to Gentility, Startle and John Finn, but since then she has brought home part of the money in every race she has started in. In her ten starts she has been first five times, second twice, third twice and once unplaced. She has displaced her stable companion, Miss Joy, as the star filly of the Montfort Jones stable.

Joseph A. Murphy of St. Louis, who promoted the Hawthorne meeting in Chicago, has announced that he has no further connection with that course, but will devote his time, after his New Orleans engagements, to the new Washington Park course near Chicago. This new plant is to have the most elaborate equipment of any race track in America.

The surprise of the Southern Maryland Handicap at Bowie Saturday was the persistent and successful effort of Bunga Buck to get a piece of the money. He was not supposed to belong in the class that started for this big event, but he ran a remarkable race and finished third. Behind him were Capt. Alcock, Careful, Surf Rider and other turf celebrities. He is evidently in good form for the New Orleans meeting, where he was a star last winter.

Without making much noise about it, Mrs. Payne Whitney has had a successful season with her horses. The jumpers that race in her colors won $42,211 during the season, and those racing on the flat won a larger sum. Of Mrs. Whitney's jumpers, the mare Saumangha is the largest money winner with $13,000 to her credit. This mare has no parallel in turf history. She is 7 years old and has two colts old enough to race.

TAYLORVILLE WINS FROM MATTOON TEAM

Visitors Show Lack of Training and Go Down 15 to 0.

Taylorville, Ill., Nov. 20.—The Mattoon American Legion team showing a decided lack of training, was defeated by the Taylorville Independents 15 to 0. Dick Simpson gave the locals the first score of the game when he booted a drop kick from the 15 yard line. V. Mullen went over for a touchdown in the second quarter while Moran made the final counter in the third quarter.

Corley playing right half for Mattoon received a broken leg in the final quarter.

[By The Associated Press]

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 20— The game between the University of Nebraska and the Kansas Aggies at Lincoln, Neb., Saturday, left the Cornhuskers at the top of the Missouri Valley Conference, undefeated this season. Nebraska defeated the Aggies, as the advantage in weight and experience had led the fans to believe it would. The score was 21 to 0. The contest was th first between Nebraska and the Aggies since 1917.

MISSOURI COPS.

Drake also remains unbeaten, after having met and defeated Grinnell at Des Moines, Ia., 21 to 0. Drake has taken the scalps of Kansas, Washington and Ames. Grinnell was near the bottom of the percentage column. Missouri, which played the only other conference match, easily defeated its opponent, Washington, at Columbia, Mo., the score being 28 to 0. The game attracted some interest as the first to be played by Missouri following the resignation of Coach Tom Kelly, who was superseded by Charles L. "Chuck" Lewis, former Tiger captain.

USE RESERVES.

Saving its first string players for the clash on Thanksgiving with Missouri, Kansas engaged Colorado University at Lawrence, Kan., rolling over its opponents, 39 to 6.

Resuming football relations, broken off in 1920 when Oklahoma entered the Missouri Valley conference, Oklahoma played Texas at Norman, Okla., and was overwhelmed by a score of 22 to 7. In twenty-one previous contests between the universities Oklahoma had won only eight times and tied once.

Oklahoma Central Normal defeated Ames at Ames, Ia., 14 to 13.

BOXING NEWS

BY FAIR PLAY.

New York, Nov. 20—Harry Greb practically confirmed the report Monday that has been circulating about the bright lights lately about his intention of breaking with George Engle, his manager. Just what the trouble is has not been stated, but the chances are that the get rich quick business men out in Pittsburgh have showed Harry how much more money he would have in the bank if he was not obliged to cut with his manager.

That is true enough, as the situation stands. But would Harry be in his present high position had it not been for his manager? He had managed a lot of good fighters, including at least one champion, Frank Klaus. He knew the ropes.

One doesn't have to overtax his brain, therefore, to grasp that he showed Greb many tricks about climbing the ladder of fame.

Eastern Football Is Given Another Shift

Several Big Surprises Handed Out in Week End Battles—Princeton Breaks Training.

BY WALTER CAMP.

New York, Nov. 20.—Football in the east has had another kaleidescopic shift. Princeton has won the premier place among the Big Three and Yale and Harvard have been shunted into the background by defeats. Washington and Jefferson has moved out of the limelight as a result of being beaten by Pittsburgh and has lost its chance for top rating. Penna. that jack in the box team, has thrust its head up above the ruck again by beating Penn State.

HANGS UP TROPHY.

Princeton has hung up a championship football in the trophy house and Monday is out of training. Harvard and Yale can only battle each other for an inferior position but each has a bitter determination to wind up the season with a victory over the other. The Army has gained somewhat in its prospects for success over the Navy through its decisive defeat of Bates and Pennsylvania's defeat of Penn State. The latter game lessens the importance of the Navy victory over Bezdek's men.

Pittsburgh gained a niche in the rearranged hall of fame by beating Washington and Jefferson which had conquered Lafayette. Syracuse knocked out Colgate, an old rival, and Brown took sweet revenge on Harvard.

TRUE TO FORM.

In other sections teams ran more nearly true to form. Iowa came from behind and beat Ohio State as was expected. Michigan had a hard battle with Wisconsin but pulled through to a victory and Chicago was unaffected by the hoodoo which has seized other teams when they met Illinois. Notre Dame and Nebraska had easy sledding and Marquette nosed out Detroit.

Poor Stanford out on the Pacific coast had a bitter blow when Washington defeated the Palo Alto team by a single point.

California went on its conquering way smashing Nevada, 61 to 13. As was expected Southern California beat Idaho 14 to 0, while Oregon triumphed over the Oregon Aggies 10 to 0. California apparently can look for another overwhelming victory over the old rival Stanford when the two meet at the end of the season.

TWO BIG TRIUMPHS.

In the South, Auburn and Mike Donahue earned a great triumph when they defeated Centre 6 to 0. Kentucky also proved a surprise by taking Alabama, the conquerers of Penn, into camp.

Georgia Tech, as was expected, defeated North Carolina State, Vanderbilt beat Georgia and Tennessee won from Sewanee. Virginia Poly ran wild over Washington and Lee and West Virginia beat Virginia 13 to 0. This latter victory taken in conjunction with Washington and Jefferson's defeat by Pittsburgh gives West Virginia far better outlook for its big game with Neale's men on Thanksgiving day.

Cornell's victory over Albright was not unexpected nor was Dartmouth's smothering of Columbia. Rutgers swept easily over New York university and Williams had an equally easy time with Amherst. Holy Cross and Georgetown were not extended

Why the Standard Oil Company's (Indiana) Business Is Successful

CONSUMERS buy petroleum products from the Company which serves them best. The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has succeeded notably because it has given notable service.

The desire to render maximum service to the community has actuated this Company in every one of its undertakings over a long period of years. Proof that the service is being adequately rendered lies in the Company's sales sheets.

Lines of efficiency radiate from the Board of Directors through every department of the organization to the ultimate consumer.

First on the efficiency chart comes quality of product. To maintain this quality there has been organized modern laboratories where every product is chemically tested for the service it is designed to render. High quality once achieved is made a standard from which deviation is never permitted.

Sales and distribution also are organized to produce maximum results at minimum expense. This assures the consumer a dependable supply, and it guarantees that when he buys a Standard Oil Company (Indiana) product he is paying only a fair and equitable price for which he receives full value.

Every factor entering into the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) business, from the purchase of crude, its transportation to the Company's refineries, its manufacture into a large number of useful products, its distribution through an intricate network of main and sub-storage depots, tank wagons, and service stations, is developed with a single eye to serving the public.

Experience has proved that the most profitable business accrues to that organization which serves the public best.

BAIT For BUGS

By H. V. MILLARD

E. T. Buckley, temporary president of the Springfield Fans' Association received the following telegram from President Al Tearney of the Three Eye League:

E T. Buckley,
618 Reisch Bldg., Springfield, Ill.

Just saw piece in paper to the effect that you are busy. Surely Springfield has a golden opportunity at this time I have a franchise I could place in your town and question of getting into organized ball remains entirely with the fans of Springfield.

A. R. TEARNEY

It is now up to the fans of the Capital City to get busy A ball park seems to be their biggest obstacle although there is a chance that Jacob Bunn might lease Watch Factory Field for the coming season Another chance is that of the C I & W leasing the old Three Eye park to the Fans' association

Upon receiving the Tearney wire Mr. Buckley announced that he would call a meeting of the Advisory committee recently appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, to prepare a campaign for funds

The proposed All Star Junior High-D H S game is not being given much thought by Coach Muir of the red and white school who is planning for the Turkey Day game with Springfield His idea of the proposed game is that the D. H S team scrimmage, the Roosevelt-Central team Monday before the Turkey Day contest "D H S did not propose the contest but we will certainly play if the Junior teams desire the battle," said the red and white coach

It appears that the talk on the game was started as more of a joke than anything else Saturday morning when Otto Woodman, principal of Central started to kid Muir that an all star junior eleven could beat this years D H S team Mr McClave came up and assented to such a contest and Mr. Richeson also fell in line for it.

It is our opinion that the contest if played up as a big affair will set a bad precedent for future years Being Junior high schools the little fellows can always force the D H S teams into any athletic contest by simply challenging them for unless the high school officials accept they will have it thrown at them that they are afraid to play the Junior teams

Roosevelt and Central have started on a well defined policy for athletics Both of the football teams have had good records this season and the teams have shown fine football and drawn good crowds However their place is among junior high schools and not against older and more experienced players The only question that should enter into the discussion is "Will the good derived from the contest this season offset any possible harm that may come out of such battles" We hardly think so

One thing is certain, Roosevelt and Central have their supporters They will enter the contest to defeat the high school team if at all possible Its easy to say that the older and more experienced players will not try their best but the first time it becomes necessary for them to hit hard they will certainly do it It is only natural of an athlete.

George Muehlebach owner of the Kansas City club in the American Association who was a good fellow with Dan O'Leary and the Decatur Fans Association last season has purchased the Enid club of the Western Association to be used as a farm for his surplus talent

A number of cities and towns have been named as district centers for independent tournaments Feb 14-17. Danville Albion, East St Louis Odin, Shelbyville, Taylorville Nokomis, Springfield Kankakee Canton Aledo Brigdon and Belvidere are on the list while Joliet and Athens are also slated for tourneys. Decatur was offered a tournament but was forced to turn it down.

Athletes of D. H. S. take notice. Several changes in eligibility rules have been proposed for the Illinois State High School Athletic association one of which requires athletes to pass twenty hours each week instead of fifteen hours.

Another one is for the permission of a high school athlete to play upon a baseball team that has no more than two salaried players. Under the present rule a high school athlete cannot play on a team that has any salaried players

Indianapolis and Decatur hook up Tuesday afternoon and evening at the St Nicholas Parlors in the three cushion league Charles Weston is slated to play the afternoon game at 2:30 o'clock while Harry Hagen is pechatle choice for the evening game at 8:00 o'clock.

LOOKS LIKE TRIPLE TIE IN CONFERENCE

Although Chicago Has Harder Foe Than Iowa or Michigan.

Chicago, Nov 20—Possibility of a triple tie for the championship in the Big Ten football conference Monday confronted Western football elevens

Chicago Iowa and Michigan by virtue of wins Saturday, remained conference leaders and today began hard workouts for final games next Saturday determined to retain their positions

Of the three Chicago apparently has the hardest task for the Maroons tackle Wisconsin, while Iowa plays Northwestern considered a weaker team and Michigan meets Minnesota.

GLARING HEADLIGHTS MENACE TO DRIVERS

Motorist Thinks It Time for Authorities to Get Busy.

Glaring headlights are becoming an unmitigated nuisance in Decatur and it is high time that the police or some other authorities begin a little mitigating, says a motorist.

"The condition is becoming such that nobody is paying the slightest attention to the dirniing of headlights," he says "As an example, I met five cars on North Main street between West Grand avenue and the Wabash railroad, all with such brilliant headlights that they were a menace to cars they were meeting. All new Ford cars are now using the prism headlight lenses and they make no pretention to dimming. Every body who meets one of these cars knows that the lights are too glaring for the safety of the other fellow

LIGHTS ON BEFORE DARK

"A thing which I am utterly unable to understand is the practice of many automobilists of turning on their lights before dark. We find any number of cars with headlights turned on when it is still light enough to see another automobile a half mile away. Headlights under these circumstances are not only a menace but they are utterly useless. Now, a tail light is different and it may very well be turned on at the beginning of dusk."

Scoreless Tie.

Illiopolis, Nov 20—The Springfield and Illiopolis independent football teams battled to a scoreless tie on the local field Sunday afternoon. The visitors gained more ground than their opponents on line plunges, but the locals succeeded in kicking out of danger Neither team was able to complete a forward pass.

The Springfield line showed expert ability in opening up the opposing wall but a heavy field made many speedy runs impossible

The Screen

William de Mille is in New York with the rough negative of "The World's Applause" which he completed recently at the West Coast Paramount Studio. He will remain about a month, during which he will supervise the cutting of the picture at the Long Island Studio and will confer with Clara Beranger as to the scenario of his next production.

After six weeks in Honolulu Betty Compson and her company making "The White Flower" will return to the Hollywood studio the last of this month. The beach at Waikiki, the volcano at Kilauea, the cliff at the Pali, and other beauty spots form backgrounds in the story, which was written by Mrs. Julia Crawford Ivers, who is also directing its production as a film.

William Cohill, formerly in charge of the motion picture department of the Actors' Equity association, has been made casting director at the Long Island studio of the Famous Players-Lasky corporation. Ned Hay, who has held the post since the reopening of the studio, will be special assistant to E. C King, studio manager,

Alice Brady, who is in Miami, Fla, making scenes for her next Paramount picture, "The Leopardess," was guest of honor at the ball given in Miami on Navy Day by the officers of the U. S. S Converse and the officials of the city.

PLENTY RABBITS BUT FEW SHOT

High Wind Sunday Hindrance to Hunters.

While quite a few hunters were lured to the countryside in quest of game Sunday, the slaughter for the day was not so large. It was not an ideal day for hunting and conditions are not yet so good for picking off the cottontails The wind was quite a hindrance in the weather line and the weed patches and corn stalks are still standing too erect and too thick to permit good open shots. However, there are indications of a heavy rabbit crop this winter and many hunters, really good marksmen, have been bringing in the bag limit—and perhaps some more.

The quail slaughter is also light and becoming lighter, not so much because of the scarcity of the bird, but because there are few farmers who will now permit quail hunting on their farm. Many of them will give consent to hunters killing rabbits on their farm but not quail.

The CHILDREN'S CORNER

Big Elm Stands 'til Town Grows

Hundreds of Children Play in Its Shade.

BY MARY SEAMAN.

And so the Big Elm stood by the little house in the clearing. The farm prospered, and the children grew and played around the clearing. John and Anne both learned to climb into the branches and when they did Big Elm stood just as still as it could.

Of course they got some bad falls but I am happy to tell you that neither of them were injured. They laughed and played, and I am sorry, but sometimes they quarreled too. When they did Big Elm felt very badly about it for it wanted the children to be happy.

SWING REMAINS.

The children grew up, but always a swing hung from the elm tree. The little house was torn down and a much better one took its place. Neighbors moved in and they liked the place and the stream of water, and the beautiful elms and maples and oaks that John's and Anne's father had been wise enough to leave standing there, so that a town grew up.

Thus it happened that many, many little children used the swing and Big Elm learned to love them all.

ALL LOVE BIG ELM.

Now while the children were growing, Big Elm had grown too, and although no one could see it grow, it had gotten a little bit taller and a little bit bigger around. The town grew and everybody who knew what a fine tree is loved Big Elm. Some of them said it made them think of good things to see how much good it had always done by giving shade in hot weather, and by how well and firmly it withstood the storms.

These things made the Big Elm very happy, and there it stands now, throwing out its shade and letting little children have a happy time in its swing. It is very old, no one knows how old, for as I told you the tree had lost count of the years.

A PUZZLE A DAY

If Moses was the son of Pharaoh's daughter, who was the daughter of Pharaoh's son? This is a clever old riddle that very few persons can answer correctly, or explain. Can you?

Saturday's answer:

HERE LIE

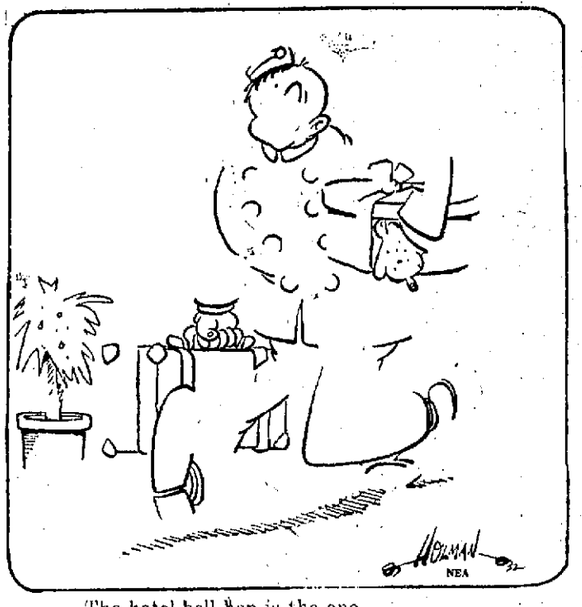

Two grandmothers and
Their two granddaughters;
Two husbands and their two wives;
Two fathers and their two daughters;
Two mothers and their two sons;
Two maidens and their two mothers;
Two sisters and their two brothers.

There were only six persons in the vault. Two widows each had one son. Each widow married the son of the other. Each couple had a daughter. Thus all the statements of the inscription were correct; the brothers were step-brothers of the sisters.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Green Wizard Asks Aid

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

He had more orders than he could fill.

The Green Wizard lived in the treetops.

He was a very magical wizard—the most magical kind, for he could make almost anything. In fact it was he who had made the Green Shoes that Nancy and Nick always wore and which had taken them on such wonderful adventures. He had made them for the Fairy Queen who had given them to the Twins. He had made the Fairy Queen's wand also, and the magic automobile of which she was so fond.

He had made lots of other things besides. The magical shovels of the Brownies, and the magical umbrella the weatherman rode, and Mother Goose's broom, and some say—although I'm not sure—that he made Santa Claus' sleigh.

He got such a reputation at last for making magical things that he had more orders than he could fill, and finally, needing help, he sent to the Fairy Queen for advice.

"Why not get Nancy and Nick?" said she at once. "They're fine helpers!"

The Green Wizard thumped his fist in his palm. "The very ticket!" he cried delightedly. "I'll go to see them this minute. For they are smart and brave and aren't a bit afraid of my enemies."

"Your enemies!" exclaimed the good queen in surprise. "I didn't know you had any!"

"Lots!" sighed the Green Wizard, stroking his beard. "Twelve Toes and Eena Meena and Tricky Trixo and Halloo Hallo and the Sour Old Witch Who Lives Under the Water-Fall. Everything I make in my work-room they know about, then they try to get it. Hum ho! A wizard has a hard life."

Does Over-eating Cause Appendicitis?

Undigested Food May Cause Rapid Growth of Poisonous Germs.

Many people overfill the intestinal tract with more than they can digest. They eat hastily and do not chew the food properly. Thus solid lumps, especially of tough meat, are apt to pass through the stomach before the digestive fluids can act on them. These lumps then escape intestinal digestion by reason of their not being properly prepared in the stomach, and furnish a good breeding place for poisonous bacili. These bacili set up inflammation which may spread and bring on an attack of appendicitis.

A Treacherous Disease.

Appendicitis attacks at any moment even persons seemingly in good health. Usually, however, it is preceded by so-called stomach trouble, constipation or similar disturbances. Often when there is a warning feeling of uneasiness in the abdomen appendicitis can be guarded against in exactly the same manner in which one guards against the spread of throat infection, because that is just what appendicitis is—an infection in the intestines spreading to the appendix. When one has sore throat, one can often prevent further trouble and the development of influenza or grippe, by using an antiseptic wash or gargle to fight the germs and a laxative to carry off the poisons from the body. Just exactly the same procedure is necessary to fight the intestinal germs and guard against appendicitis. But instead of an antiseptic wash for the throat, an INTESTINAL antiseptic is necessary.

Intestinal Antiseptic.

There is now offered to the public a preparation having the DOUBLE action of an intestinal antiseptic and a COMPLETE system cleanser. This preparation, known as Adlerika, acts as follows:

It tends to eliminate or destroy harmful germs and colon bacili in the intestinal canal, thus guarding against appendicitis and other diseases having their start here.

It is the most complete system cleanser ever offered to the public, acting on BOTH upper and lower bowel and removing foul matter which poisoned the system for months and which nothing else can dislodge. It brings out all gasses, thus immediately relieving pressure on the heart. It is astonishing the great amount of poisonous matter Adlerika draws from the alimentary canal — matter you never thought was in your system. Try it right after a natural movement and notice how much more foul matter it brings out which was poisoning you. In slight disorders, such as occasional constipation, sour stomach, gas on the stomach and sick headache, one spoonful Adlerika ALWAYS brings relief. A longer treatment, however, is necessary in cases of obstinate constipation and long standing stomach trouble, preferably under direction of your physician.

Reports from Physicians.

"I congratulate you on the good effect I had from Adlerika since I prescribed it." (Signed) Dr. L. Langlois.

"I have found nothing in my 50 years practice to excel Adlerika." (Signed) Dr. James Weaver.

"I use Adlerika in all bowel cases. Some require only one dose." (Signed) Dr. F. M. Prettyman.

"After taking Adlerika feel better than for 20 years. Haven't language to express the AWFUL IMPURITIES eliminated from my system." (Signed) J. E. Puckett.

Adlerika is a constant surprise to people who have used only ordinary bowel and stomach medicines, on account of its rapid pleasant and COMPLETE action. It is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

STORY CONTEST CLOSES SATURDAY

Stories May Be Turned in At Any Time.

MUST OBSERVE RULES

Large Number of Entries Expected.

The Review annual prize story contest for pupils of the Decatur high school will come to a close at midnight Saturday night, Nov. 25. All stories must be entered before midnight.

Many high school students are working on their stories and it is expected a large number will be entered. Pupils who have their stories finished can leave them at The Review business office any time during the week. Often enterprising students turn in their stories long before the closing day of the contest.

READ REQUIREMENTS

Students who expect to enter stories should pay strict attention to the requirements regarding the submission of the stories at The Review office. The pupil should have no identification mark of any kind on the story itself, except the name of the story. The story should be placed in an envelope by itself and the envelope should be sealed. Then in a separate envelope the student should place a slip on which is written his name, address, age and year in school, also the name of the story submitted.

When the story is received at The Review a number will be placed on the envelope containing the story and the corresponding number will be put on the other envelope.

NO FAVORITISM.

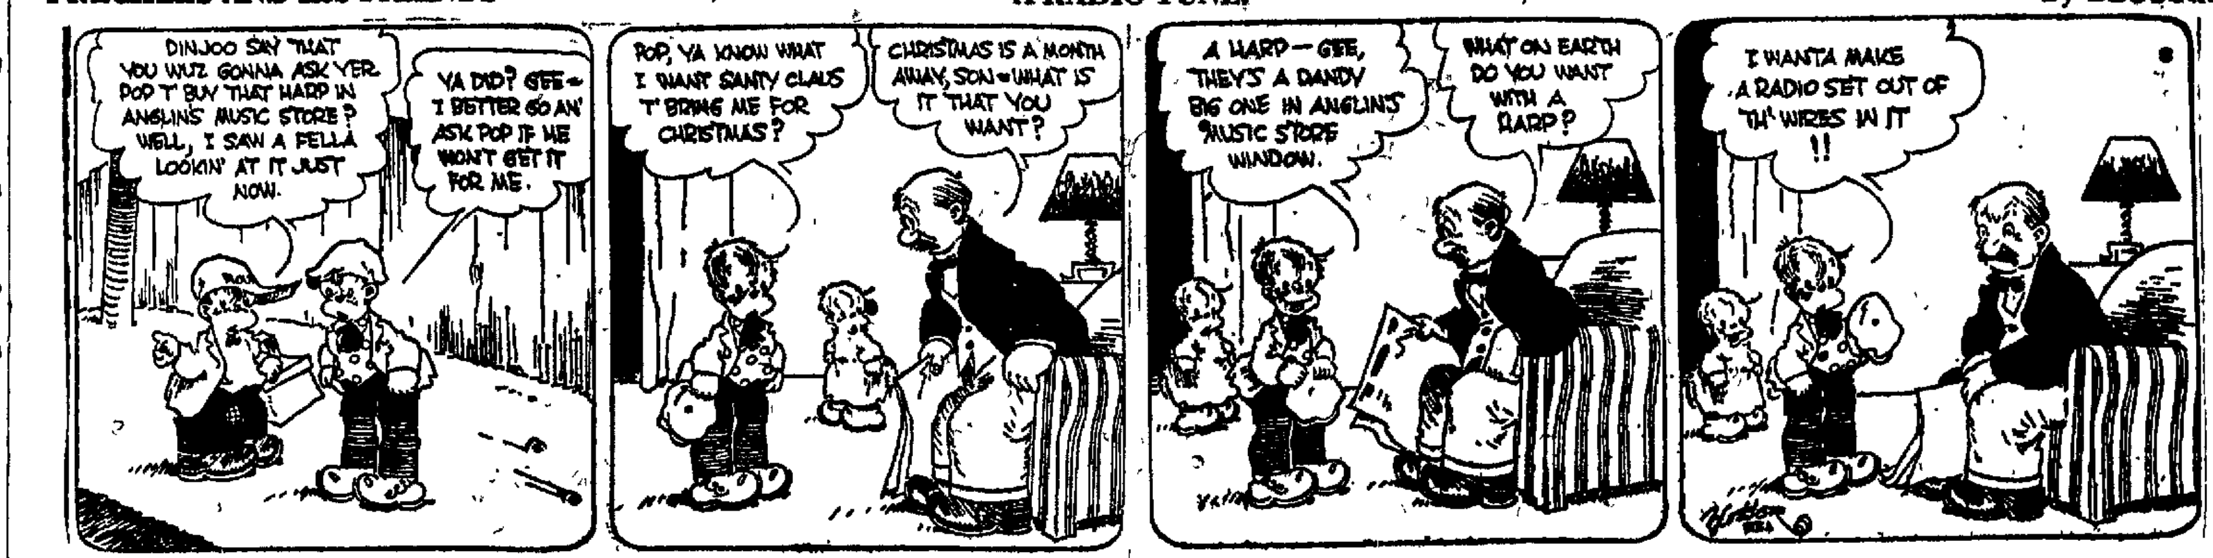

These precautions are taken in order that the judges will have no idea as to whose stories they are passing on and there will be no chance for anyone to feel that any favoritism is being played. The judges will know the stories only by their numbers.

The envelopes containing the slips with the students' names will not be opened until after the judges have passed on their stories and decided upon the winners. The judges themselves will not know who the prize winners are until the names appear in The Review with the stories the following Sunday.

HARD ROAD OPEN NOW TO BUFFALO

Will Reach to Dawson for Winter Travel.

Twenty-five miles of beautiful, smooth hard road without a break, without so much as a ripple, says a Decatur motorist who drove west Sunday on an exploring expedition. One may drive now from Decatur to Buffalo. The Meneely mixer is now working in the village of Buffalo in front of the National Bank and has about three blocks to go to connect up two sections of pavement.

The concrete is now finished between Buffalo and Dawson but it is not open for travel yet. The big mixer belonging to the Meneely company is now working out of Dawson and is a mile and a half west of that place. This means that it has about three and a half miles to go to complete the Meneely contracts for this year.

WORK SUNDAY.

Both mixers were in operation Sunday. The smaller mixer in the village of Buffalo had a crew of thirty men and five trucks at work. This outfit is short handed. They say they are unable to get enough men. When the short stretch in Buffalo is completed the crew will be taken to the big mixer west of Dawson to help man that outfit and help bring it up to full capacity.

Will Meneely be able to finish his contract this season and carry the pavement up to Riverton?

If the weather continues favorable they will, say the men on the job. But cold weather is likely to come on at any moment and put an end to operations. It will require about three weeks to finish under the most favorable conditions and that will carry the job up to the middle of December. The chances are that it will not be finished.

DENY EXECUTION OF ERSKINE CHILDERS

[By The Associated Press.]

London, Nov. 20.—The Evening News today printed a dispatch from Dublin saying it was rumored Erskine Childers and eight other unnamed men had been executed. Shortly afterwards, however, it received another dispatch from the Irish capital stating that the rumor regarding Childers had been officially denied.

Uncle Sam Puts Concrete Roads First

No one has better facilities for determining the past performance of roads of all kinds in all parts of the country than the United States Government.

The Government approves the types of construction to which it will lend its aid, and in an overwhelming majority of instances it has approved Concrete.

Cooperating with the states, the Government has approved in the past five years expenditures totaling $220,000,000 for three kinds of pavement—Concrete, brick and bituminous. Of this, $184,000,000, or more than 80 per cent, has been invested in Concrete. That represents 79.3 per cent of the mileage paved.

Any community that selects Concrete for its highways is fully sustained in its choice by the observation and experience of the Federal Government.

Every 1918 stamp presented now will be accepted at its maturity value of five dollars if used as part payment for one or more new certificates, dated January 1, 1923.

"This opportunity should appeal to everyone who holds war savings stamps bought in 1918, whether he holds one stamp or two hundred," said Mr. Hill.

Postmaster Hill is anxious to handle the bulk of these exchanges before the usual Christmas rush begins at the postoffice.

RESIGNATION PANA PASTOR ACCEPTED

Presbyterians Lose Rev. C. W. Meeker.

Pana, Nov 20.—At the congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning, the resignation of Rev C. W. Meeker was accepted and the pastor who has been in charge of the church at Pana will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday Dec 3. His opening sermon will be preached at Belleville's First Presbyterian church, where he has accepted a call on Sunday, Dec 10.

Rev. Mr Meeker came to Pana five years ago from Herrin, Ill. Prior to that time he held the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Topeka, Kan. He and his wife later left there and spent some months in missionary work in South America, returning to the states and settling in Herrin, afterwards coming to Pana. He has made a very popular pastor and the best wishes of all in and out of the church go with him. The Mattoon Presbytery will act on his resignation soon and he will move to Belleville's Presbyterian district.

MRS PENCE BURIED

The funeral services of Mrs Rebecca Springstun Pence, who died in the St. Vincent hospital in Taylorville, and whose body was brought to Pana took place Sunday afternoon from the First Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. C R Booth officiating. The burial was at Linwood cemetery. Mrs. Pence was a resident of Pana for years but for the best several months had made her home with her son, Dr. C. Pence, at Taylorville.

Misses Madelain Schwensen, Hazel Bieht and Leona Parker, had a very close call from being killed by an automobile Friday evening in West Pana, when Mayor Vidler, en route home, struck them as they were crossing the road. Mayor Vidler was blinded by an approaching car from the other direction, but fortunately he was running slowly and the girls when struck received only minor bruises. It was raining and the wind shield covered with water together with the blinding lights of the approaching car, caused a slow down which was very fortunate for the girls.

The mayor stopped his car, took the girls in and conveyed them to their home where they received medical attention. They are reported as being up and around and able to attend to their duties.

COMMUNITY SING

The community "sing" conducted by the Woman's club at the New Palace theater Sunday afternoon was largely attended and it is believed that it will be repeated at some future date. The service was under the direction of Miss Dennis of LaPort, Ill. Mrs. A. H Corzine, of Assumption, Miss Bessie Hatton and Mr. Bernard Moe also gave solo selections.

Miss Vernon Cockelreas of Nokomis, was brought to Pana Saturday and underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Huber Memorial hospital. She is reported as doing well.

Charles Bryson, received injuries to his hand while at work on a carpenter job on South Chestnut, when a large rafter fell on him, driving a big splinter into the member. He will be laid up for several days.

Mrs Robert Ullum is suffering from blood poison, due to an infected finger, as a result of cleaning some granite ware.

The first evangelistic song service held at the St. Johns Evangelical church since 1910, was held Sunday evening and was largely attended.

Cain, according to the report received at the penitentiary, kept away from the honor farm Saturday night.

Clear $125.

The chicken pie supper served in the new kitchen of the St. Paul's Methodist church last Thursday night, where 460 people were accommodated, was very successful and $288.76 was taken in, $125 of which is clear. At one time during the evening, each of the blocks surrounding the church was blocked with automobiles.

BONDS PICK UP SOME OPTIMISM

BY GEORGE T. HUGHES.

New York, Nov. 20.—A more cheerful feeling was evident in bond circles today although it failed to be reflected in quotations nor was there any great amount of trading done.

Probably the more favorable turn in the foreign situation helped sentiment. Foreign bonds were all firm and in some cases notably United Kingdom issues, even strong. The United Kingdom 5½'s of 1929 sold within less than a point of the high of the year. Here, of course, the direct influence was the rise in sterling exchange.

The strictly investment issue, the 5¼'s of 1937, were also in demand but with little change in price. France exchange went higher and confidence in France's position appeared to be, in a measure restored. Among South American issues Uruguay 8's sold higher. Uruguay's credit stands high among South American countries. Mexican issues had some advance as did City of Tokio 5's.

Not much change was observable in railroad bonds. C & O convertible 5's were noticeably weak. This bond is convertible into stock at 80. The stock, however, was relatively firm. C. & O. earnings are very good. On the basis of the September results there would be ten percent available for dividends on the common stock after fixed charges and preferred requirements.

Financial Notes.

New York, Nov 20.—The Cannon Manufacturing company cotton mills have decided to increase the capital stock to $10,500,000 and to pay a stock dividend of 200 per cent.

New York Central lines loaded 80,720 cars with perishable fruits during the four months harvesting. This was twice the amount handled during the same period of 1921.

Crude oil production in the United States during the week ended November 11 totalled 1,684,920 barrels daily, an increase of 45,671 over the previous week.

Ex-dividend today: Consolidated Cigar preferred, Homestake Mining; McCrory Stores common, Mexican Seaboard Oil; Standard Oil of California; Wells Fargo; National Sugar Refining company; Hartman Corporation.

Coffee was quoted Dec 9.77c; March, 9.52c, May, 9.31c; July, 9.01c. Raw sugar: Dec., 3.86c; March, 3.89c; May, 3.84c; July, 3.90c. Refined sugar: Nov., 7.05c; Dec., 7.20c.

October production of the Ford company's American plants was 121,766 cars and trucks against 89,000 for September. The former number is 32,000 greater than the number for any previous October output. With the exception of the Bordeaux plant the October production of each foreign plant showed an increase over September.

CHICAGO-ALTON SEEKS $2,000,000

Chicago, Nov. 20—Receivers for the Chicago and Alton railroad today applied in federal district court for permission to issue $2,000,000 of receivers' certificates. Approximately $1,000,000 so derived would be required to repair locomotives and other equipment as a result of the shopmen's strike, the court was told, and the necessary repair work probably would have to go to outside shops.

W. G Bierd, president and receiver of the road, said that between now and May 1924 the road should earn better than $3,000,000 if business continues good.

DISCHARGE RYAN FROM BANKRUPTCY

New York, Nov. 20.—Allan A. Ryan, whose spectacular failure startled Wall street today, was ordered discharged from bankruptcy by Judge Hand.

BOARD OF TRADE ENTERS APPEAL

Files Grain Futures Trading Act Protest.

Henry S. Robbins counsel for the board of trade, said he soon would ask the court to advance hearing of the case and would also ask a permanent stay restraining the operation of the law pending final decision.

COTTON MARKET HAS TWO FEATURES

BY GEORGE MOULSON.

New York, Nov. 20—The features of today's cotton market were two: first, heavy selling by Liverpool as the result of the sharp break there; and, second, as heavy pressure on December as has yet developed. Though an improvement was due abroad, foreign quotations declined about forty American points for near positions under a process of liquidation such as has been going on here for ten days past. Spot transactions fell off, leaving sales of American only two thousand bales.

An abnormally small percentage of American in total spot business abroad has been a significant development of the recent advance in prices. Foreign spinners have found it cheaper to take foreign growth rather than the American product. Weakness abroad today threw a steady stream of arbitrage cotton on to the local market, carrying prices off over half a cent from Saturday's closing. This brought March below 25c again and December below 25c as well as January.

Uncertainty over census figures, tomorrow, coupled with the recent abrupt falling off in southern spot sales, deprived the situation of several factors which have stimulated the market for some weeks. A very conservative and reliable southern spot firm issued its estimate of this year's production, placing the yield of lint cotton at 9,915,000 bales. This would mean a total crop, including linters of approximately 10,500,000 bales. The estimate was accompanied by a significant statement that Liverpool had bought only about half the quantity of American cotton as last year and as a result, export demand is still disappointed.

New York, Nov. 20.—Exports of American goods which usually are accountable for the difference between a moderately profitable year and one of extreme prosperity, are increasing steadily at least at Pacific Coast ports.

The sudden jump in export shipments has been so great that cargo space is at a premium and several coastwise shipping companies are preparing to put some of their largest vessels on foreign trade routes.

FROM ALL PORTS.

Record breaking shipments of automobiles and canned goods for Australia, lumber for the Orient, wheat and apples for England and lumber and American made machinery for Central and South America are leaving Pacific ports all the way from San Diego to Vancouver.

Three of the largest liners on the run to the Orient and the Antipodes have left San Francisco within ten days carrying the largest cargoes that have loaded in several years.

RETAILING INCREASES.

San Francisco, Nov. 20.—Retail trade in California shows a marked increase this week. Operations in the last three weeks have set a record in many cities. Bank deposits and clearings are steadily increasing and the volume of general business is far ahead of that for a corresponding period of last year.

There has been a marked revival in the hardware trade. Some increase in unemployment has resulted among common laborers owing to the closing of the crop season but these losses have been more than made up by the increased demand for skilled workers. For the first time in months, there is a demand for men in the metal trades. Oil production still is increasing but closing of large contracts for fuel oil and expansion of export demand have tended to relieve the situation.

NOT SUFFERING.

Detroit, Nov. 20.—The situation of the Michigan farmer which has often been thought precarious because of the high labor rates in Detroit and other industrial centers in the state is working itself out very well this fall despite many handicaps. The high labor rate competition is nothing new to the Michigan farmer, as he has had to face it for the last ten or twelve years. Local bankers believe that the agriculturalists have thoroughly adjusted themselves to the situation.

SHORTAGE HITS SOUTH.

Atlanta, Nov 20.—The car shortage is being felt more keenly than ever in the south. Railroads are using every available piece of rolling stock to move the tremendous volume of traffic. Louisville and Nashville officials have announced the purchase of 70 locomotives to be delivered before the end of the year. These will cost in the neighborhood of $3,100,000.

WHEAT CLOSE IS UNSETTLED

French and English Report Pressure on Bulls—Corn Weakens.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Although wheat showed something of an upward tendency here today during the early dealings, with May touching a new high price record for the season, declines soon took place.

The initial strength was ascribed to an advance in Liverpool quotations, but this was later offset by enlarged world shipments and by prospective increased offerings from the new Argentine crop.

Besides, estimates of the Argentine exportable surplus were raised to 185,000,000 bushels as against previous estimates of 148,000,000 bushels.

MATERIAL SETBACK.

Subsequently, bearish views which a prominent Chicago trader expressed regarding the world wheat situation led to a material setback in values. Reports that England and France were to press Germany for reparations counted as a handicap on wheat bulls. The close was unsettled, 1@2c net lower, with December $1.18⅝@1.18¾ and May $1.16⅝@1.16¾.

SETBACKS FOLLOW.

The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to half a cent higher, with December $1.21@1.21⅛ and May $1.18⅛@1.18¼, was followed by moderate general gains and then by a setback to below Saturday's finish.

Corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat. After opening ⅛@¼c off to ¼c advance, December 71⅝@71½c, the corn market hardened a little and then underwent a decided setback.

CORN WEAKENS.

Later the corn market weakened with wheat and because of selling pressure from commission houses. The close was unsettled, ¾c to ⅞@1c net lower, with December 70⅝@70½c.

Oats started ⅛@⅜c higher, December 44⅝c, and later showed losses all around.

Declines in the value of hogs had a bearish effect on provisions.

STEERS SHOW 50c DECLINE

Some Grades Steady—Hog Trade Slow—Lambs Steady.

Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Nov. 20.—After a slow and lower trade for medium and plain grades of steers last week, when many of these showed a decline of 50c, the supply was again large today. Comparatively few prime steers were offered. It was said that most of the choice steers are being held back. Feeders are looking for improved demand for that class of stuff during the show week. Less than 2,500 stale hogs were in the pens today, but the trade was lower.

Receipts were estimated at 32,000 cattle, 53,000 hogs, 23,000 sheep and 3,000 calves.

SOME GRADES STEADY.

Cattle—Steers selling above $9.00 were generally steady today, but those going below that mark were weak from the start, and mostly 10@15c lower, some deals showing more drop late in the day. Few were good enough to go above $11.00, however. Choice range steers sold at $8.25@8.35, but here also bulk of stock sold weak to lower. Best cows sold about steady, while medium grades were weak to a little lower. Good canners made $3.00@3.15, while best bologna bulls were placed at $4.00@4.50 on a good market. Packers took most of their veal calves at $9.00 on a weak to 25c lower market.

HOG TRADE SLOW.

Hogs—With a large fresh supply of hogs the trade was slow and lower today. It was a fairly active market at the decline, however, and sellers did not have much unsold stuff at the close. The trade was generally 10@20c lower, with choice butchers at $8.00 and below. Few packing hogs sold under $7.25, while good [illegible] went at $7.50@7.65.

LAMBS STEADY.

Sheep—Lambs sold about steady. Choice native killers went to shippers and city butchers at $14.75, while big packers took some good lots at $14.65. Bulk of good lambs sold at $14.25@14.50. Feeders were [illegible] $13.50@14 [illegible] for the best. Aged muttons also sold at unchanged price levels. Good ewes made $7.50@7.75.

COMMODITY NEWS.

FIREWORKS.

New Orleans, Nov. 20.—The shipping board steamer "Heffron" is headed for this port from Hong Kong with the largest cargo of Chinese fireworks ever received here in preparation for the Christmas trade.

FLOUR.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 20.—A slight improvement in the demand for flour is reported today. Buyers are more disposed to place orders for forward shipment.

VINEGAR.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 20.—The lower vinegar prices quoted here today are due directly to the production of the greatest apple crop on record at Pacific northwest points.

TOBACCO.

Kansas City, Nov. 20.—Missouri tobacco averaged about 300 pounds to the acre this year against 325 pounds a year ago. Very little of the crop has been marketed so far.

SAUER KRAUT.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 20.—Oregon and Washington have the largest cabbage crops in history and cabbage is being sold to kraut makers at $8 to $10 a ton.

NUTS.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 20—The peanut yield in this state this year is estimated today at 10,504,000 pounds.

FRUIT.

San Francisco, Nov. 20—The raisin output in California is estimated at 250,000 tons. The crop is of fine quality. The damage by rain was very small. The acreage planted was large and new vines came into bearing.

BUILDING MATERIALS.

Atlanta, Nov. 20—Building materials are firm today. This is unusual for this time of year. There is a shortage of brick. Lumber orders continue slightly below shipments and production at a little less than new business.

RAILROAD EQUIPMENT.

St. Louis, Nov. 20.—Industries producing railroad equipment and supplies are operating aggressively and close to capacity today.

COAL.

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 20.—Mines for a radius of thirty miles in this vicinity are threatened with a shutdown today because of the low water in the stream. Many mines are boring for water but may have to close before a supply from this source develops.

WOOL.

Boston, Nov. 20—The extent to which contracts for next season's wool now on the sheeps' backs is likely to go, is agitating the local wool market. Stocks of domestic wool here undoubtedly are greatly reduced and the fall clip in Texas and California offer the only domestic supply available until well into next year. Many traders here hold that the high prices paid for Texas and California wools indicate that considerable of the buying in those states is for speculative purposes. The market locally was quiet and firm.

LOCAL GRAIN REMAINS FIRM

Top Hogs Down to $7.25; Eggs Up to 49; Poultry Lower.

Grain markets were steady to strong Monday but the fluctuations netted very little difference by the time the close was reached and no change in local quotations were made.

Hogs were again very weak, very dull and very slow with the result that a new low for some time is now being offered by local packers. Tops are down to $7.25, with the possibility of perhaps a dime more for extra choice, smooth lots.

POULTRY LOWER.

In poultry there has also been a slump because of the apparently very large supply of chickens, ducks and geese. All chickens, both large and small, hens and springs, were marked down one cent a pound Monday, with ducks taking a similar reduction.

Turkeys are scarce and high, shippers offering forty-two cents a pound for the young birds.

Eggs are up to forty-nine cents a dozen and shipping butter is following creamery in its advance.

TRADING QUIET IN EARLY SESSION

New York, Nov. 20—Trading was quiet throughout the morning, special buying operations being manifested, however, in a few selected specialties and some of the tobacco and textile shares. Railroad stocks improved in tone, some of the ordinarily inactive issues making appreciable gains, but the volume of business was light.

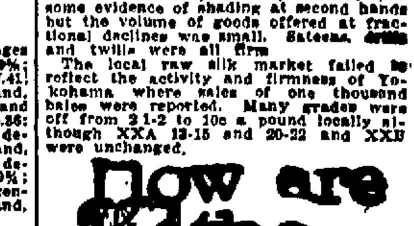

Otis Elevator jumped six points and gains of two to three points were recorded before noon by Gulf States Steel, Tobacco Products "B," Postum Cereal, Bethlehem "B," United Retail Stores and Lackawanna railroad. Selling pressure was again evident in Consolidated Gas, which yielded 1½ points and Standard Oil of New Jersey which dropped 3½, weakness in these issues resulting in some profittaking in other parts of the list. Call money opened at 4¼ per cent.

The closing was strong.

DRY GOODS.

New York, Nov 20—Caution was the prevailing note as trading reopened in the market for cotton goods today. Prices were fully maintained by the mills, although print cloths and sheetings could have been placed in large volume had the mills been willing to make concession on goods for January delivery. There was some evidence of shading at second hands but the volume of goods offered at fractional declines was small. Sateens, [illegible] and twills were all firm.

The local raw silk market failed to reflect the activity and firmness of Yokohama where sales of one thousand bales were reported. Many grades were off from 2 1-2 to 10c a pound locally although XXA 13-15 and 20-22 and XXB were unchanged.

Tuscola—Most of main roads good, but side roads are muddy where they were not well oiled last summer.

Pana—Roads good from here to Decatur; out roads are in bad condition.

HITCHING UP THE STREAM OF SUPPLY AND DEMAND

It's no mystery any more that the current of a little stream or a great river can be harnessed and made to furnish the power to run a mill or a city's electric light plants.

The power was there in the water—it remained for men's ingenuity to put it to work for them.

The constant stream of supply and demand—for all the wants of everyday life—has been flowing through the Classified Sections of newspapers for years.

It's been the job of The Review's A-B-C Classified Section to hitch this big stream up to the individual wants of every reader of the paper so that they can get what they want—when they want it.

The "A-B-C" and "1-2-3" arrangement of the scores of Classifications and the little ads under each one has been the ingenious part of bringing this broad service home to everyone—at a glance!

Read these columns regularly!

West Decatur Street Resurfacing Cost $41,016

Use of $13,382 Worth of Extra Binder Pushed Cost Up to $2.90 Square Yard.

Resurfacing West Decatur street, 14,108 square yards, cost a total for everything, including court costs, advertising and extra work, $41,016.80, or over $2.90 a square yard. Of this total the contractor's share was $37,-899.16. For this last amount the city comptroller was directed to draw a voucher for Hirt & Driscoll, the contractors on this work, by the city council Monday morning. Alex Van Praag, street commissioner, being the only member of the council to vote against the payment of the bill.

USE 1,115 TONS FILLER.

As was anticipated, as the work developed, the amount of filler needed to bring the street to a proper crown was many times the estimate of thirty tons made by the engineer in drawing up the specifications. The total amount of extra binder needed to level the badly broken and uneven old brick surface and to create a crown of four and a half inches to secure proper drainage was 1,115.3 tons which at twelve dollars a ton brought the cost for binder to $13,-382.40. The cost of the asphalt surface coat of one and a half inches was $16,920.00.

MADE BIG MISTAKE

That the estimate made by the city engineer at the time the original specifications were drawn was a very serious mistake as to quantity of binder needed was admitted by all the members of the council, although it was also agreed that the street was a well-built street and that it was built in accordance with the specifications.

"It was found," said C. R. Andrew, city engineer, who discussed the binder cost, "that this old brick street had a crown which ran from less than nothing to not more than three inches and in order to secure a crown of four and a half inches specified this additional binder was necessary."

SUGGESTED CONCRETE.

To the contention of Mr. Van Praag that concrete might have been used at a saving it was pointed out that a shell of concrete, as most of it would be, would not stand up under the rolling which the binder and top course would receive. In a few spots, where really deep holes were found, or made, concrete might have been used at a small saving.

That the construction of the street is excellent and that the figures on the estimate of binder needed was an under-estimate was generally admitted, but that the condition existed and could be remedied most effectively by the use of the binder was also agreed by the engineer and all of the members of the council except Commissioner Van Praag, who refused to vote to approve the estimate and for the issuance of the voucher, although Corporation Counsel Ralph Monroe called his attention to the fact that the work had been done according to the specifications and at the price named in the contract.

$1,410 REBATE.

The total cost of the improvement, however, is still under the estimate of $42,426.80 and there will be a rebate on the assessment coming to the property owners of $1,410.

Mr. Andrew said that he believed there would be a saving of binder on other streets to be resurfaced as the engineering force and the contractors were learning how to make slight savings in this part of the work.

ALL TO BLAME.

"We are all subject to some blame in this matter," said the mayor. "I take me share of it. We have a good street but the cost is somewhat higher than we expected it would, because of the greater amount of the binder needed for the job."

Modernizing the surface drainage at intersections and otherwise making the new pavement a real one were also given as making necessary the use of considerable binder not estimated in the original plans.

Estimate Cost to Repair West Main Street, $22,815

To put that part of West Main street which is paved with wood blocks into good condition will cost a total of $22,815 according to the report made by C. R. Andrew, city engineer, to the city council Monday morning.

In this report Mr. Andrew placed the cost of removal and retreating the blocks themselves at $4,235 and the cost of relaying them on a half inch sand cement cushion, rolling and filling with asphalt, outside the street car right of way, at $1,680.

BRICK FOR TRACK.

For paving along and between the street car rails and between the tracks Mr. Andrew strongly recommended brick with an asphalt filler laid on the foundation which is already there and which, said the engineer, tests had shown to be in very good condition with a very few exceptions.

This new brick surface along and between the tracks would cost $13,-910. As there are 16,000 square yards which need attention on this street this would bring the average cost per square yard $1.35. A wholly new brick surface, with asphalt filler, the engineer estimated would cost $18,-701.

SAYS NOT BEST PAVING.

In his general statement regarding the wood blocks Mr. Andrew expressed his personal belief that they are not as well fitted for pavement as they were during the days of horses with steel caulks on their shoes and of vehicles with steel tires. The first scarred up the ends of the blocks and the later rolled the fibre and the filled together making a water proof surface.

The modern pneumatic tired, rapidly moving traffic works just the other way—it sucks the particles of filler from the blocks and from between them allowing water to permeate and to cause the wood to swell.

DIFFERS WITH MATTES.

Mr. Andrew took issue with Commissioner Mattes in that he said that he did not believe that the blocks heaved because of moisture which came from below and he cited several streets where this heaving has not taken place but where they are paved under the same conditions as the streets which are in such bad condition.

That even the worst streets would have been in much better condition had they been properly surface treated every three years he was very sure. "Keep the top sealed and you save all" was one statement which the engineer strongly emphasized.

MAYOR AGREES.

With his statement that he did not believe that blocks were best for city streets under modern conditions the mayor heartily agreed but as for salvaging the block streets which the city already has, no action was taken.

The engineer said that where the street car service has caused vibrations loosening the filler or excavations had been made in the streets, more damage had been done than on streets where such action had not taken place but, he said, even such streets would in time, heave as the top dressing wore away and he gave the example of East William street which had not bulged until this fall. With the gradual disappearance of the top dressing even the best street built of these blocks will go to pieces if the top sealing is not renewed.

PLACED ON FILE.

As the city has no fund for doing any of this work at this time the report was simply received and placed on file.

CENTRAL UNION TO REBUILD LINES

Northwest Section to Cost About $85,000.

The Central Union Telephone company is making plans for the rebuilding of the entire system in Decatur. The division north of the Wabash railroad and west of Broadway is to be taken up first and it is planned to rebuild that this year. The estimated cost of this division is $85,-000.

The telephone company has just completed the rebuilding of the Urbana system and has completed estimates for Champaign. A large amount of money has been expended this year in the rebuilding of farm lines outside of Decatur, in the vicinity of Kankakee and elsewhere in the state.

Mrs B. saw within one block on a Decatur street two automobiles bearing Ohio license plates.

R E S. reports he saw a girl about nineteen running after another girl, same age, who had a piece of candy. Both got mad because a man on the street stopped to watch them.

MISS NINA BAKER GOES TO CHICAGO

To Head Touring Bureau of Motor Club.

Miss Nina Baker, who has been executive secretary of the Decatur Motor club since the organization of the club, has tendered her resignation to take a position with the Chicago Automobile association. Miss Baker will be the head of the touring bureau of the Chicago organization.

Her work in connection with the Decatur club attracted the attention of the Chicago club and brought an offer of a much higher salary and greater opportunities. She will leave the Decatur club at the end of this week and will probably take a short vacation before going to Chicago.

Mr. Baker's place in the Decatur club will not be filled immediately. Russell Millikin, who is the road expert for the club, will be in the office much of the time during the winter when there will be less call upon him for outside work.

DECATUR MEN IN BIG CHICAGO CASE

F. A. Brown and C. C. LeForgee on Opposite Sides.

By the appointment of Frederick A Brown, one of the well known attorneys of Chicago, and former president of the Illinois Bar association, to be one of the special attorneys in charge of the grand jury investigations of alleged frauds on the part of certain members of the Chicago board of education, Attorney General Brundage set the stage for a big legal battle in which two men, both Decatur boys and school boys together here, will have leading places.

With Charles C LeForgee of Decatur as chief counsel for the members of the Chicago school board who are under investigation and with "Fred" Brown, also formerly of Decatur, one of those in charge of the other side Decatur will take an unusual interest in the alleged graft cases in Chicago school affairs.

Mr. Brown is a brother of Mrs. Charles R. Murphy of Decatur and of the late Dr. E J. Brown. He graduated from the Decatur high school in 1885.

CITY REPAIRING DAMAGED WALK

Council Decided It Is the City's Place to Do the Work.

City street department employes have already started to repair the sidewalk on the west side of North Water street in the 400 block which, after investigating the causes of its upheaval, was decided by the city council to be the duty of the city to repair.

This decision was reached last Thursday and before the formal report was made to the council Monday the work of repairing the walk had been started. This is the sidewalk on which Dr. Lynn Barnes, owner of property abutting it, and Alex Van Praag, street commissioner, differed as to whose job it was to repair it. Dr. Barnes said that the upheaval of the walk was caused by the expansion of the wood blocks in the pavement and on investigation the council agreed with him.

NOON CLUBS IN ONE BIG LUNCHEON

Meet Nov. 28 Before Road Celebration.

Announcement was made at the regular Rotary club luncheon Monday of plans for a luncheon on Tuesday, Nov. 28, at some place yet to be designated, which the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and City club members would attend as a preliminary to the pageant which will take place that afternoon to celebrate the opening of the hard road from Buffalo, Ill., to Chicago.

The pageant will take place at two o'clock and Will C. Starr, president of the Rotary club, announced at the meeting of the club Monday noon that the next luncheon meeting would be with the other clubs on the date mentioned.

T. S. NORTH DIES IN INDIANAPOLIS

Was Veteran in Wabash Service.

Another veteran in the service of the Wabash railroad passed away with the death of Thomas S. North at his home in Indianapolis Monday morning. News of his death was received by Division Freight Agent L F. Boss of Decatur and in whose office, Mr. North was located as a traveling freight agent until his sickness and retirement some months ago.

His death did not come as a surprise as he had been in very poor health ever since suffering a stroke of apoplexy last June and he had not been back to his work since that time. On Sept 1 of this year, the company placed him on its retired list and he was carried on a special payroll provided for special cases by the company.

WITH ROAD 37 YEARS

Mr. North would have been sixty-nine years old next December and he had been with the Wabash for twenty-seven years, first becoming connected with the Banner route as a representative of the old Lehigh and Wabash dispatch, a special fast freight service given by those two roads. In this connection, he was located at Indianapolis and later was commercial agent for the local road in that city.

When the government took over the railroads during the war period, the position which he held, was abolished and he was brought to Decatur as traveling freight agent. In this capacity, he not only became widely acquainted with railroad men but many shippers in this territory and made friends among all of them.

Discuss Engine Runs.

General Chairman C. F. Thomas of the B of L. F. and E. on the Wabash system and Earl Cloney, chairman of the 9th and 13th districts, met Monday morning with Superintendent J. E. Stumpf of the Decatur division relative to how the new run for enginemen on Nos 56-53 will be handled.

The company proposes two crews to be assigned to this run to run on through on this train. The crew would take the train here, go to Danville and returning in the evening, go on through to Litchfield, and return the next morning. The enginemen want to run a different crew in on this train in the different directions. The difference to the company would mean about three hours more pay to the crew.

Railroad Notes.

Roundhouse forces of the Wabash started Sunday on working every other Sunday. This is, just half a force will work each Sunday, as was the case before the strike began. The roundhouse will also shut down at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoons for the day force.

Dan McCallum, Wabash assistant chief dispatcher, who has been off duty for several weeks on account of sickness, was able to be back at his desk Monday morning.

Bob Lowry, operator in Wabash XD office, returned to work Monday morning after a ten-day auto and hunting trip to Southern Illinois.

Because of various changes made on Wabash trains under the new time-card to come out next Sunday, the north end engine and train jobs have been bulletined for bids up to Nov. 25. The 15th and 13th district bulletins have not been posted yet however.

REFUSE CONNECTION TO OLD DRAIN TILE

Empties in River Above the Water Works.

Once again the city council refused to accept any responsibility for a drain tile which drains from part of riverside into the river above the water works when it declined Monday to grant to George Adams a permit to connect the drain from a cess pool on his property in Riverside with this tile.

The drain is a private drain and as it empties into the river above Decatur's water intake has been looked upon with disfavor by city officials, Commissioner J. F. Mattes being especially firm in his opposition to anything of the kind on the ground of danger to health. Mayor Borchers was quite as emphatic and Corporation Counsel Ralph Monroe said that the city had had some trouble over that tile once before and had then disclaimed any responsibility for it.

COMPLETE FIELD WORK.

The field work for the proposed sewer system in the southeast part of the city has been completed and C. R. Andrew, city engineer, said that he would soon have the plans for the work ready for submission to the city council.

"Perhaps you folks who have no drainage there will come in and help boost for the new sewer," said Mayor C. M. Borchers to Mr. Adams after the council had declined to grant him the permission to connect with the old tile drain now there.

New Golf Course Laid Out For Nelson Park

Business Men's Association Backing Project Using New Ground Bought By City Last Year.

Work on what is practically a new nine hole golf course in Nelson park will be started Tuesday morning under the superintendency of Frank Torrence, head of the parks for the actual work and James Starr, golf expert of the Country club, as consulting golf engineer.

Mayor C M. Borchers has agreed with the golf enthusiasts who are interested in having a golf course at the park that the funds needed for the work shall come from the park fund and work on the course which had been already laid out will start at once.

USE WALLINS TRACT

By the purchase of what is known as the Wallins tract to the north of the old Nelson park land this golf course of 2,200 yards in length is now possible in spite of the acreage of land which was taken from Nelson park by the creation of the lake. In fact the new course will be 500 yards longer than the old course.

Under the direction of the Business men's Golf association the work will be pushed and it is expected that play can be started on the course next spring.

THE COURSE.

The first tee will be located immediately in front and south of the brick house on the land known as the Wallins tract, thence east to the present No. 2 where No. 1 hole will be located. Thence southeast to the present No. 6, thence south to the present No. 7, as is. Thence north about 100 yards north of the present No 8 green, then due west to north and south park drive, then northeast to just north of the green house on the Wallins tract, thence west to park drive, then north along park drive to Wood street, thence east back nearly to the brick building.

PIPE GREENS.

Piping needed for watering the greens will be put in at once and the greens and fairways will be seeded and cleaned where this is necessary.

One fine feature of the new golf course will be that it will be away from the lake shore, in the north part of the park on the newly added tract, thus leaving the lake side of the park safer for those who do not care to play golf. In only two places does the course cross the road.
